Presidential Comments:

Thank you, Chair Ward and members of the Board.

And thank you to everyone who is joining this Board meeting via live stream. We appreciate your participation.

This week we celebrate the founding of our university fifty-three years ago, and I believe that is a great place to begin my remarks.

As part of that celebration today, we launch our Inaugural Day of Giving. This campaign allows alumni, faculty, staff and friends to make an investment in our students and the region.

At our founding, education was the best path to a better life and that principle rings true today. While the world looks very different in 2021 than it did in 1968, we still strive to provide that path, opening the doors of opportunity for those willing to put in the hard work.

NKU's mission of being a steward of place is as relevant today as ever before.

So before I begin sharing news and highlights from the past two months, I want to encourage you all to visit our Day of Giving website at nku.edu/FoundersDay to make a gift if you can.

Happy Founders' Day, NKU.

While we remain vigilant in the continued fight against the COVID-19 pandemic nearly one year after our campus pivoted to remote learning and online operations to keep our community safe, I have some good news to share.

Vaccine Update

First, COVID-19 vaccinations for Kentucky residents in Phase 1C opened this week and that includes NKU faculty and staff who are Kentucky residents.

Like in a lot of areas around the country, finding an appointment continues to be a challenge because supply still remains a constraint. Besides St. Elizabeth Healthcare and the Kroger Clinic at the Northern Kentucky Convention Center, other sites are opening as we speak and with supply likely to increase in the coming weeks, it will only be a matter of time before vaccines will be available for all who choose to get them.

NKU employees who live in Ohio or Indiana are currently unable to receive their vaccine in Kentucky. We have advocated that that restriction be modified as soon as supply eases. We will keep the community informed when and if that changes.

And of course, as we move through this process, it is important to stay focused on the safety protocols that keep us safe.

Commencement Update

On Monday we announced that we will have an in-person commencement this May. Our proposal for outdoor commencement ceremonies was approved by the Commonwealth. The approval is for up to 25-percent of capacity provided social distancing and masking are still observed.

We still have several items to firm up, but knowing we can honor our graduates in person this May, is exciting.

I want to thank our special events team for their planning not only for this May, but for their great work on our previous two virtual commencement exercises.

This summer, we will welcome a new member to Cabinet.

New Provost — Dr. Matt Cecil

I am happy to share that Dr. Matt Cecil will become our new Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs beginning this July 1.

Dr. Cecil currently serves as Interim Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs at Minnesota State University, Mankato, where he oversees its academic colleges and institutional research, as well as its COVID-19 response. Dr. Cecil has also served as the Dean of the College of Arts and Humanities at Minnesota State.

He brings more than a decade of academic administration experience at Minnesota State, Wichita State University and South Dakota State University. He also taught at Purdue University and the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Cecil is a media historian and a leading scholar of FBI history during the J. Edgar Hoover era.

As NKU's Chief Academic Officer, he will help advance NKU's mission to deliver innovative, student-centered education across its seven colleges.

WE HAVE ASKED DR. CECIL TO JOIN US AND SAY A FEW WORDS.

Thank you, Dr. Cecil. And thank you to search co-chairs Bonita Brown and Dale Stephenson, the search committee and all of our students, faculty and staff who participated in interviews and open forums with the candidates.

We are very excited to welcome Dr. Cecil to the NKU community later this year.

Legislative Update

Earlier today, the Board heard from Trey Grayson and Assistant Vice President for Economic Engagement & Government Relations, Carmen Hickerson, with a legislative affairs update.

We will keep the campus informed about developments in the Kentucky General Assembly Session and how NKU's priorities are faring. We remain hopeful for additional higher-education appropriations, given the state's positive revenue situation.

Student Success Innovations

The campus continues to move forward with Success by Design despite the tumultuous past year, leading to several high-impact student success innovations across the campus.

For example, Steely Library extended its popular Textbook Affordability Program into the spring 2021 semester. The library identified 19 digital textbooks to add to the online catalog with the potential to reach over 1,100 NKU students and save them more than $74,000. Since the launch of the Program in the fall 2020, over 6,000 NKU students have saved nearly $350,000!

The library also expanded its Research Help Services for students by joining a national consortium of academic libraries. Students can now get personalized support from a librarian any time, day or night, via online chat. Last fall, there were close to 600 virtual chats. So far this spring there have been more than 200 virtual interactions demonstrating that we are meeting students where they are.

Norse Advising moved to virtual advising appointments, a practice students have enjoyed and embraced with fewer no-shows for crucial interactions. The plan is to include this in the future as a regular option for our students.

These are just a few imaginative innovations accomplished for students this year and we will continue to refine how we serve students across campus going forward.

Homecoming 2021

Homecoming was a bit different this year, but our Alumni team planned a successful 2021 NKU Homecoming and Alumni Weekend "At Home" in February, which allowed our alumni to celebrate safely.

The weeklong celebration featured a blend of virtual gatherings and Norse pride traditions on campus, including a window painting competition and helmet decorating contest.

The community enjoyed several virtual events such as Black History Month Celebration Keynote Speaker Angela Davis, a political activist, philosopher and author. NKU's Black Alumni Council also held virtual events such as the "Black Norse Homecoming Experience," a showcase of black excellence from the campus community.

The week concluded with a virtual pep rally before the men's basketball team took on Wright State Raiders on ESPN+.

Norse Pride was showing all week and it was a great sight to see.

Making Teaching Public 2021

Our third annual Making Teaching Public event was also held during Homecoming Week last month and it was our most successful yet.

About 170 people attended classes virtually — a increase in attendance over the first two years.

Thirteen classes were available for anyone to attend at no cost and covered subjects such as teaching K-5 students reading skills and creating a village's brand identity in the Czech Republic.

This program always provides a great opportunity for community members to take an inside look at an exciting topic and learn something new.

I want to thank the faculty members who opened up their courses, as well as the University Advancement who helped make this happen. By all accounts, our external guests had a great experience joining our students.

We do have a lot more great news across campus. Let us begin with an update from the Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

Students, faculty and staff have been engaging in online training in diversity, equity and inclusion this month as part of the commitment to building a safe and welcoming campus community for all individuals.

This training is meant to inspire a more equitable and respectful community while offering the opportunity to learn about diversity, equity and inclusion. It will equip participants with the information and skills necessary to create that respectful and welcoming environment.

Throughout the month of February, NKU celebrated Black History Month with a variety of activities, including Angela Davis serving as our Keynote speaker and more than 600 in attendance for that virtual event.

Also, the Office of Inclusive Excellence partnered with Marketing and Communications to share via social media the names and photos of Historic African American leaders who we celebrate for contributions to social justice and civil rights. The highly successful campaign engaged faculty, staff and students.

In fact, the campaign continues this month as we celebrate Women icons in History, this time offering the stories of accomplished and powerful women who have made significant contributions throughout the history of the United States.

Our Student Affairs division has been active under new Vice President Eddie Howard so far this year, including a very successful Third Annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service.

Student Affairs Updates

• As you heard during the presentation from members of the Mental Health Advisory Group, the Health Counseling and Student Wellness office will begin using Therapy Assistance Online (TAO), which is a suite of online tools for client education and interaction.

- This will increase access to resources for waitlisted students and reach distance and online learners. Staff and faculty will also be able to access the self-enrolled portions of the system. We're grateful to the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education for its support in providing the year-long state contract for TAO.
- The first round of our student-engagement initiative, Pitch-a-Program has yielded three student-led ideas with in-person components:
 - o Paint night
 - o Wellness Wednesday certification program on pathogen transmission
 - o and Trivia Night
- The next round of program submissions is underway.

The Academic Affairs division also has some exciting highlights, beginning with a national honor for NKU's MBA program.

Academic Affairs Updates

- The 2021 U.S. News & World Report ranking of the Best Online MBA Programs ranked NKU's program as No. 123 in the nation, a dramatic climb after being No. 191 in 2020 and being unranked in 2019.
- Our MBA was also named one of the Best Online MBA Programs for Veterans for the first time at No. 72. Only 78 programs nationwide made the list.

Congratulations are in order to Dean Hassabelnaby and his team in the College.

- Also, in the Haile College of Business, the Center for Economic Education is expanding its award-winning Danny Dollar Academy to a virtual platform for elementary educators. The Center collaborated with the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland to adapt the program to a virtual environment. Now educators teaching in third through fifth grades are able to teach economics, personal finance, and entrepreneurship through this program.
- In the College of Health and Human Services, NKU's Center for Simulation Education earned teaching and education accreditation from the Society for Simulation in Healthcare and the Council for Accreditation of Healthcare Simulation Programs.
- NKU is the Commonwealth's only university to receive accreditation, a feat accomplished by only 183 other simulation centers internationally. Along with meeting many certification metrics, including a two-year track record of excellence in simulation standards and teaching, NKU received high marks for its innovative technology and university leadership support.
- Congratulations to all involved for this remarkable accomplishment.
- FUEL NKU recently received a grant for $70,000 from the Kroger Foundation to support continued operations. In addition, we now have an online ordering system for our students. This QuickPick option allows us to offer fresh produce, frozen soups and customized orders while still maintaining social distancing and safety standards.
- FUEL has provided over 5,500 pounds of food and toiletries through the table model so far this spring semester. Based on FUEL NKU's calculations, they have welcomed 1,760 visits for the Spring 2021 semester as of late February. We certainly appreciate this great work on behalf of our students.
- One of our two Ethics Bowl teams from the Philosophy program placed fifth in the recent regional competition. It was the team's highest ranking ever in this competition and only two spots from going to the national competition.

- NKU's Model UN Team from the Department of Political Science, Criminal Justice and Organizational Leadership earned nine awards at the Midwest Model United Nations conference last month.
- And 36 SOTA students from the Theatre and Dance Program, Music Program, and Music Preparatory Division participated at the Kentucky National Association of Teachers of Singing Student Auditions, and 10 of our students placed as finalists, including three first-place winners.
- The NKU Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Amy Gillingham, performed virtually at the 2021 Kentucky Music Educator's Association Professional Development Conference. The concert entitled "Of Time and Season," is available to view on YouTube.
- The Kentucky Center for Mathematics, housed in the College of Arts and Sciences, holds an annual conference that normally attracts 400 PK-16 math educators. This year's conference held last week, was offered in a virtual format with 1,000 participants from 33 states and 17 countries. The conference was a tremendous success and exemplifies the importance of the Center in improving math skills and college readiness not only in Kentucky but now across the nation and world.
- Last month, the College of Informatics continued its tradition of playing a major role in the INTERalliance TechOlympics, which is the largest student-run tech conference for high school students in the country. COI faculty, staff, board members and student apprentices ran hands-on cybersecurity workshops as well as mock interview and information sessions. The event was virtual this year and engaged nearly 300 regional high school students.
- The NKU Cyber Defense Team placed second at the three-state 2021 Cyber Defense Competition in late January. They defeated all teams from Kentucky, Ohio and Iowa except one: their archrival University of Louisville. What was especially impressive was that this competition is designed for 8-member teams, but the NKU team only had four students this year. Congratulations to these exceptional students.
- NorseMedia worked with the Scripps Howard Center for Civic Engagement to create "teach the teacher" videos on Black History and Culture and upload them to a new statewide website for P-12 teachers.
- The website is www.historyofrace.com. The project is a collaboration with the University Press of Kentucky.
- Each video tells important stories about events and places in Kentucky history and are designed as discussion prompts for the classroom.
- The Scripps Howard Center for Civic Engagement continued its "Story Time" program in February. To commemorate Black History month, volunteers from the Black Faculty and Staff Association and the Black Alumni Association selected a children's book by a black author and/or illustrator. The readings were uploaded to Facebook and YouTube, and together have had more than 3,000 views. Story Time debuted last spring during the early stages of COVID-19 with volunteer readers from the NKU community. This great program will continue through May.
- The Chase Trial Team recently competed in the National Trial Competition Regional Division, along with 32 other teams. Our team advanced to the final round, ending the competition as the first runner up. Later this month, the Chase team will compete in the American Association of Justice Regional Competition. Congratulations to all involved and best of luck at the next competition.

We have a lot more good news to report from each of our divisions as well. So, let us move on to the latest good news from Administration and Finance.

Administration and Finance Update

- NKU IT has continued its digital transformation journey with the implementation of an innovative new Chatbot software application, which was a Success by Design proposal made possible by SIIF funding.
- The chatbot uses artificial intelligence (AI) to provide 24-7 access to information to better serve students and directly impact student success through personalized and efficient answers to their questions. Chatbots continue NKU's customer support after hours and improve resolution times. The software will continuously improve its effectiveness as it learns our environment and student query analytics. This is incredibly exciting for our students. Next we have the Student Account Services and Financial Assistance areas will go live with chatbots!
- Another digital transformation project has been completed with the implementation of Team Dynamix. NKU IT has implemented this cloud-based solution to provide better IT service with a digital portal that can be accessed by students, faculty, and staff to retrieve information, submit requests for services, utilize the integrated knowledge base, and track projects and workflows.
- For example, when customers submit a service request, Team Dynamix routes the tickets to the correct team without the need for human intervention, greatly improving productivity. Students will be able to access solutions to resolve many of their problems without the need to submit a service request.
- Additional stages of Team Dynamix development will include adding Project Management as a means to provide transparency to campus regarding NKU's use of IT's resources on critical projects.
- Finally, we received great news from Moody's Investors Service recently regarding our bond rating. They assigned an A1-stable rating to NKU's proposed $278 million pension bond issue and affirmed the A1-stable rating on the university's $130 million debt that is currently outstanding.

Next we have some exciting updates from Intercollegiate Athletics.

Athletics

- The NKU men's basketball team won its Horizon League Tournament opener last week against Detroit Mercy with a dramatic buzzer-beating shot, but our Norse fell in the semifinals two nights ago against Oakland to end their season. It was a great year for the Norse and I am sure they're ready to get back to work for next season.
- Our women's basketball team won its Horizon League Tournament opener against RMU at the end of February but was eliminated last week in the quarterfinals to end their season.
- Men's basketball player Trevon Faulkner was named to the All-Horizon League Second Team. The league also recognized Marques Warrick as the Freshman of the Year and placed him on both the all-freshman and all-league third teams.
- Women's basketball player Lindsey Duvall was named to the All-Horizon League Second Team. Ivy Turner earned a spot on the third team and Grayson Rose was placed on the alldefensive team.
- Our men's and women's track & field teams recently completed the Horizon League Indoor Championships. Lynsey Shipley won the 200-meter and 400-meter races while also leading the 4-by-400 relay to a gold medal. She helped the Norse women to a 4th-place finish. Kyle Mastin narrowly missed out on winning the men's 3,000-meter race, ultimately earning silver in the closing strides.

- Norse Athletics is working with Dr. Dorea Glance within NKU's College of Health & Human Services to facilitate additional conversations with the coaches and staff regarding social justice and racial equality. In May, Dr. Glance is going to facilitate three workshop sessions focused on building awareness, knowledge and skills.
- Student-athlete Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) is also a topic at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics as well as both state and national policymakers. The future of NIL will be impacted by rulings forthcoming from the United States Supreme Court, pending legislature in multiple states, and proposed legislation within the NCAA. The athletics department has formed a working group to appropriately address NIL at NKU following those decisions.

Campus Conversation — March 19

As you heard from members of the Mental Health Advisory Group this morning, another key component to serving our students is our resolve to maintain a focus on mental health at NKU. I encourage all of you to join the Campus Conversation on Mental Health next Friday, March 19 at 1 pm via Zoom. We all can and must play a role in promoting and supporting the mental health of our students, faculty and staff.

In two weeks, I will have the honor to serve on a panel at the American Council for Education (ACE) annual meeting along with President Ronald Crutcher of the University of Richmond and Dr. Nancy Thomas who directs the Institute for Democracy & Higher Education at Tufts University. The topic for the panel is Civic Learning, Racial Justice, and Democracy's Future: The Role of Institutions and Campus Leaders. It should make for an interesting conversation to say the least.

NKU's American Idol contestant: Alyssa Wray

Finally, I would like to offer congratulations to NKU freshman Musical Theatre BFA student, Alyssa Wray.

Alyssa is from Perrysville, KY, and was featured this past Sunday on American Idol and is moving on in the competition. She auditioned before the judges singing, "I Am Changing," by Jennifer Hudson and she received three votes to send her on to Hollywood.

All of Norse Nation is excited to watch her journey.

Chair Ward and members of the Board that concludes my remarks for today's meeting.

FACILITIES MANAGEMENT REPORT

1. New Residence Hall

Moody Nolan (MN) architects, of Columbus, Ohio and Lord Aeck Sargent (LAS) of Lexington, Kentucky and Atlanta, has designed a new 297-bed student residential facility. A significant part of LAS' higher education practice is the planning and design of student residential facilities. Messer Construction is serving as construction manager. The building is located on the front (south) section of Lot F. It will include 297 semi-suite style beds featuring two double-occupancy bedrooms sharing one private shower room, one private toilet room, and two sinks. The building will include ample communal gathering and study space to foster student engagement.

Structural steel, metal deck installation, and framing of exterior walls is complete. Roof installation is underway and will continue through mid-May. Exterior fiber cement panel installation began in early April. Interior mechanical, electrical, and plumbing trades are progressing on each floor.

Due to COVID-19 related supply chain delays in the steel industry, a phased occupancy is planned for the building. Floors 1, 2 and 3 will be complete July 15, 2021 and will be fully occupied in August, with a capacity of 161 students. All necessary life safety and building systems will be fully operational at that time, and the state building inspector's occupancy permit will be in place. Interior finish work on floors 4 and 5 will continue through August and September, with occupancy planned for mid-September, for a total of 297 beds in the completed building. (Students to be re-located to floors 4 and 5 will be temporarily housed in Callahan, until the move to the new Residence Hall can be scheduled).

Architect of Record: Moody/Nolan

Student Life/Interior Design Consultant: Lord Aeck Sargent

2. Fine Arts Elevator Replacement

The mechanical equipment for the passenger elevator in the original section of Fine Arts is original to the building and in need of total replacement. Increasingly unreliable, modernization of this elevator is essential to ensure safe, continued operation. Otis was the low bidder. Because the freight elevator shares a shaft with the freight elevator, the freight elevator may also be out of service throughout the construction period.

Materials to replace the elevator are now on campus. Construction work will begin in mid-July and will be complete in December 2021.

Engineer: Pedco E&A Services

Contractor: Otis Scope: $285,000

Anticipated Completion: December 2021

3. Nunn Hall Elevator Replacement

Nunn Hall has three elevators, and all are at the end of their useful life. The elevators have become increasingly unreliable and are often out of service. Modernization is essential to ensure safe, continued operation. Otis was the low bidder. One elevator will be out of service throughout the construction period.

Materials for this project are now on campus. Construction began in mid-March. Two of the three elevators will be complete on August 1, 2021 and the third elevator will be complete November 2021.

4. Softball Field Turf Replacement

The grass turf on the softball field is in poor condition and in need of replacement. Drainage is inadequate, the field is not level, and a new irrigation system is needed. Some minor structural repair to the dugouts is also needed. Design is complete. This project has been on hold for a year due to the pandemic. Approval has been received to proceed and it is in the bidding phase.

5. Roof Fall Protection, Phase I

Deferred maintenance funds will be used to install fall protection systems on campus roofs to comply with OSHA 29CFR1926.501. A combination of engineered and pre-fabricated fall protection systems will be installed to ensure employees remain safe while conducting necessary and regularly scheduled building maintenance. High hazard and highly utilized spaces will be addressed first.

The first phase of fall protection installation is focused on installation of pre-fabricated, ballasted non-penetrating guardrail systems assembled by Operations & Maintenance. Using in-house labor will allow additional roof areas to be covered in the first phase of implementation.

In a future phase, the assistance of professional engineers who are certified safety professionals will be needed to ensure that unique structural and safety issues are addressed.

6. Gender Neutral Restroom Renovations

Funding has been secured to move forward with creation of a much-needed single person, gender neutral and ADA compliant restroom in the Student Union. A location adjacent to the 3rd floor public restrooms has been identified, making plumbing connections relatively easy to accomplish. Design work is underway and work will be done by a contractor.

If funds permit, minor modifications will be undertaken to an existing small restroom on the 5th floor of Nunn Hall and to two existing small restrooms on the 4th floor of Steely Library, to create similar single person, gender neutral restrooms. Similar restrooms are available in Griffin, the Albright Health Center and HIC, and serve many on campus with need for a private restroom space.

7. Callahan Hall Renovations

Callahan Hall, a 150,792 GSF residence hall in the East Residential Village, was built in 1962 and renovated in 2008. Due to budget constraints, the 2008 renovation included minimal HVAC system upgrades.

This project includes replacement of the hot and cold water HVAC distribution piping and portions of the domestic hot and cold water distribution piping. The piping rises vertically through the building in mechanical closets and then extends horizontally above ceilings to each residential unit. This vertical and horizontal piping, original to the building, is in poor condition. Problems include clogs, rust pitting, weeping/leaks, poor insulation, etc. This project also includes replacement of the hot water heaters; installation of a chemical water treatment system for HVAC piping; new LED lighting in all corridors; and, minor chiller repairs.

Bids were received in late March. Contract award is underway.

8. Math Education Psychology Center/Administrative Center Bridge Parapet Repair

The concrete parapets (vertical railing pieces) on the bridge connecting the 2nd floor of the Mathematics Education Psychology Center to the Administrative Center/University Center plaza needed repair. The project includes various concrete crack repairs; expansion joint replacement; repair to a plaza drain and addition of a second bridge drain; and, application of a coating to deteriorating concrete parapet. Repair work was complete in April.

9. Math Education Psychology Center Skylight Replacement

There is a large skylight in each wing of this 1980 academic building. Despite efforts to repair them, both skylights leak consistently. The project will replace the glass, sealants and caulking. Planning is underway and construction will occur this summer.

Contractor: TBD Scope: $200,000

Anticipated Completion: Fall 2021

10. Utility Metering

Funds saved in the utility budget are being invested to replace broken sub-meters for electric, water and natural gas in campus buildings. With functioning meters in place, energy consumption can be monitored more closely. Additionally, leaks and other issues can be detected more readily, saving the university on otherwise wasted energy costs. Sub-meters are also used to cross-charge auxiliary entities and must function properly to obtain accurate data for this process. EnergyCAP software has been purchased to assist in managing utility usage data and track building-level consumption trends.

11. Herrmann Science Center Plaza Replacement

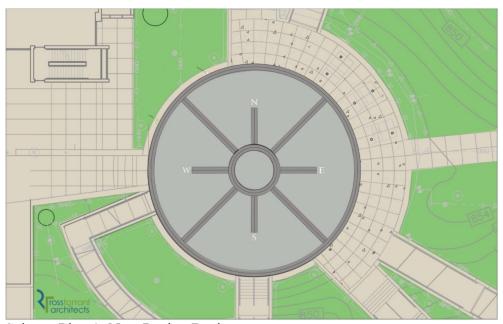

Concrete pavers in the circular plaza outside the Science Center are in poor condition and pose a tripping hazard. A new design for the plaza, using stained concrete with paver accents, has been bid. The design is based on a compass, with the cardinal directions identified with a letter as shown in the graphic below. Construction began in April and will be complete this summer.

12. Albright Health Center Condensate Tank Replacement

The Health Center's condensate tank system and pumping system, original to this 1984 building, are overdue for replacement. The condensate tank captures the by-product of cooled steam, in the form of condensate, and sends it back to the boiler for re-use. The tank currently resides in a space below the mechanical room floor, because the heat exchanger sits on the floor. The goal is to replace and remove the condensate tank system from the subfloor area by also raising the heat exchanger up, off the floor. The project also includes replacement and modernization of the pneumatic valve/actuators on the existing heat exchanger. The project is in the bidding phase.

13. Landrum Generator Replacement

Landrum's emergency generator is original to the building and in need of life cycle replacement. The generator provides critical back-up power in the event of a power outage. This project is in the design phase.

14. Norse Hall Renovations Phase II

Repairs to Norse Hall's exterior balconies, steel stairs and railings were complete in summer 2020. Traffic membrane coatings at all balconies will be completed summer 2021, completing Phase I work scope.

Phase II of the project includes installation of new fan coil (HVAC) units; two new boilers; replacement of failing shower pan liners; installation of new exterior doors and frames; and, repairs to the exterior insulation system (the façade).

Norse Hall, constructed in 1992, includes a mix of two-bedroom apartments and efficiencies, housing 304 students. These repairs are critical upgrades necessary to provide an attractive living environment and extend the life of the building.

This project is in the bidding phase.

15. University Police Renovation

Honors House, vacant since the move of the Honors College to Founders Hall in May 2018, is under renovation as the new location for University Police. This facility will provide University Police with space to facilitate community engagement and collaboration as they strive to partner with the university community in pursuit of positive safety outcomes for all stakeholders.

Work will be accomplished with a combination of in-house labor and various subcontractors retained for specialty aspects of the work. The renovation includes creation of an accessible, secure, and modern space with resilient systems designed to support routine and emergency safety services around-the-clock. A modern dispatch office will be created as part of this project. The project scope also includes secure storage rooms on the lower level, renovation of several restrooms, and replacement of interior finishes. Various critical support systems include a new generator, upgraded fiber and data network service, and upgrades related to University Police's responsibility to provide uninterrupted service and monitor campus safety 24/7.

Asbestos was uncovered in the mastic of existing floor tile, and it has been abated. A hip roof has been installed over the leaking and poorly designed flat roof, above the former garage. Electrical upgrades will be underway in May, along with interior wall construction, restroom work and mechanical system upgrades. Detailed coordination planning related to the Dispatch Center is progressing well. Work will continue through the spring and summer, and occupancy will occur next fall.

16. Administrative Center Electrical Switchgear Replacement - Design

Switchgear equipment distributes a building's incoming electric power to its internal electrical systems. The electrical high voltage switchgear in the Lucas Administrative Center is located inside the building, making replacement a challenge. The unit, original to the building, has reached the end of its useful life, and risk of failure is a significant concern. Failure would cause loss of power resulting in a building shutdown. Given the location of the campus data center in the Administrative Center, this is considered a critical project. Design work has begun.

17. Student Union Food Service / Qdoba Renovation

The former "Travel Wagon" area of the Student Union food court is being renovated to house Qdoba, a nationally branded food concept. NKU's Qdoba will offer most of the restaurant chain's typical menu offerings. Construction began in April and is scheduled to be complete and ready for fall 2021 operation. The popular Travel Wagon outlet is being moved to a new location within the food court. All construction/renovations are being managed by Chartwells, NKU's food and beverage business partner. Funding for this project, and others, are capital dollars which are part of our new contract. The decision to move forward with Qdoba is based on extensive student input and surveys, and is consistent with the recommendations of the campus master plan.

18. US 27 Development

Fairmount Properties continues due diligence and planning for the US 27 Development. The project will be a mixed-use development with a pedestrian-friendly, ground floor street presence. Phase One is a 65,000 square foot office building and associated parking garage on the north side of the Nunn Drive intersection for St. Elizabeth Healthcare and OrthoCincy.

Phase Two, on the south side of Nunn Drive, will be a mixed-use development of 30-38,000 square feet of full-service and casual restaurant and retail tenants; a 110-room hotel; 75-150 market rate apartments; parking; and, potentially some office space. Retail uses will result in a safe, active pedestrian experience, complete with al fresco dining on patios, sidewalk amenities, public art installations and an urban environment that embraces the notion of a unique street experience.

The State TIF (Tax Increment Financing) application has been reviewed and a final award of $14.2M was approved. State and local TIF funds will be used to help with the cost of infrastructure development on the Phase II site. OKI has approved an $861,704 STP/SNK Transit infrastructure support grant for the project. Funds allocated through two federal programs, the Surface Transportation Block Grant program and the Transportation Alternatives program, will be spent on road, transit and pathway improvements benefitting the project. Fairmount will match the grant funds with $369,302 in project funds.

With occupancy of the St. Elizabeth Medical Office Building in April 2019, Phase One is complete.

Phase II Progress - South side of Nunn Drive:

- The university signed the Ground Lease with Fairmount in March 2021.
- Fairmount continues to have discussions with potential hoteliers and retailers.
- Fairmount has additional site due diligence underway, including soil test borings.
- Master Planning continues to incorporate design for both sides of Nunn Drive, to ensure a look that is consistent with the objective of creating a new campus gateway.

POLICIES REPORT

The following policies were approved at the executive level after proceeding through the campus vetting process. The President and other university administrators determined that approval of these policies by the Board of Regents was not needed per the criteria established in Presidential Recommendation C-7 of the January 2015 regular meeting:

The Board of Regents shall approve the following criteria to determine if a university policy requires Board approval:

- The policy identifies a major university strategic initiative;
- The policy involves the Board's fiduciary responsibilities;
- The policy is associated with an issue of significant risk; and/or
- The policy must be approved by the Board for legal and compliance purposes

The criteria will be interpreted by the President, who may seek consultation from General Counsel or other university administrators. All new or revised university policies that meet the above criteria will be submitted to the Board for approval.

For efficiency purposes, the administration shall have the authority to make technical or editorial revisions for Board approved policies. A technical or editorial change is a non-substantive change such as the correction of statutory or regulation references, contact names, position titles, department names, office locations, email or web addresses, spelling or grammatical errors, and the like.

BACKGROUND:

Naming actions in connection with private gifts are governed by NKU Administrative Regulation-II-4.0-2, section 2.2. NKU's Naming Policy provides for naming opportunities in consideration of a major contribution to the university. The policy allows flexibility in determining the level of contribution appropriate for each naming action, enabling each gift to be judged on its own merit.

After careful consideration by university officials and unanimous support by the University Naming Committee, it was recommended to offer the following naming recognitions.

(1) The university has received a gift to support an endowed LIFT scholarship for undergraduate students with demonstrated financial need as determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA); who upon their initial consideration for the scholarship are full-time, first-generation freshmen pursuing studies in any major and who are a graduate of St. Henry High School (Kentucky) and, who agree to adhere to the specific requirements of the Lifelong Investment in Future Transformation (LIFT) Scholars program.

(3) The university has received a gift to support a scholarship for students studying computer science or computer information technology at Northern Kentucky University. Scholarship funds may be used to cover tuition, room, board, and textbooks. The selected students must be accepted for admission as a degree-seeking student in either computer science or computer information systems within the College of Informatics. Upon application, the student will be asked to write about the experience of women in their field of study and how they plan on giving back to the Greater Cincinnati area once they graduate. It is the donors wish that the student maintains a GPA of 3.5, that the student attends the Cincinnati Woman's Club Scholarship Dinner in October, that the student attends the Cincinnati Woman's Club Scholarship Tea in September, and that the student agrees to participate in the mentorship program of the Cincinnati Woman's Club.

This contribution will continue the advancement and success of the Men's Basketball program.

Donor: Thomas J. Munninghoff

Naming Gift: $250,000

Naming Recognition: Thomas J. Munninghoff Athletics Suite

This gift, along with previous gifts of approximately $513,837, will be counted as a campaign contribution and the combination of gifts will allow the donor, Thomas J. Munninghoff, to reach the $750,000 requirement for naming rights.

- (6) The changing of all associated names from the Carol Ann and Ralph V. Haile, Jr./US Bank Foundation to the Carol Ann and Ralph V. RECOMMENDATION:

That the following amendments to the Department Chairs Handbook receive Board of Regents approval.

BACKGROUND:

The changes below are proposed to reflect current structure within colleges at Northern Kentucky University. Structure has moved beyond that of departments with chairs to also includes schools with directors. The proposed changes to Section 1 of the Chairs Handbook replace antiquated references with current language. The major substantive change in this section occurs in Personnel Management. The proposed amendment aligns the annual performance review process with the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook and current practice (Item 7 with a newly added item).

The title of Section 4 is changing to specifically reference program coordinators/directors to avoid confusion with school directors.

The Council of Chairs agreed to the changes outlined below at its meeting on April 12, 2021. A redline draft of the revised Department Chair/School Director Handbook is attached to this recommendation.

SECTION TWO

SELECTION OF CHAIRS/DIRECTORS

When a vacancy occurs in the office of department chair or school director at Northern Kentucky University or when such a vacancy can be anticipated, it will be the responsibility of the dean, in consultation with department/school faculty, to recommend a replacement to the provost, according to the following procedures.

I. Position Vacancy

Once a vacancy or an anticipated vacancy in a department chair's or school director's position is made known, the dean will request from the provost written authorization to being the search for a new chair/director. The authorization will indicate clearly whether the search may be external as well as internal. Interim chairs/directors may apply for an open chair-position with approval of the Dean as part of an interim appointment.

II. External Search

a. Search Committee

Once appropriate approval to fill the vacancy has been secured, the dean will instruct the department/school to elect a search committee composed of at least four full-time, tenured or tenure-track faculty of the department/school and at least one student representative. If relevant, department/school policies which require that all tenure-track faculty serve on department/school search committees will be respected. The student(s) on the search committee will be a junior or senior majoring in a discipline of the department/school. This student will be selected by the faculty members of the search committee. A member of the department/school faculty will serve as chair of the search committee. If the number of department/school faculty eligible for the search is fewer than four, the dean, in consultation with department/school faculty, will select additional faculty members from related departments in the University to bring the committee membership to the minimum number. In addition, the dean, in consultation with the faculty, may select at least one member from appropriate community practitioners or alumni. Whatever the make-up of the committee, a majority of the voting members must be faculty. The dean and department/school faculty will follow university guidelines to insure that the search committee membership is appropriately diverse with regard to race and gender.

b. Position Announcement

The Search Committee will develop a position announcement and send it to the dean's office and the Affirmative Action office for approval. All such position announcements must list the academic rank, areas of competence, and qualifications associated with the position, must conform with the University's affirmative action, equal opportunity guidelines, and must conform with all other applicable university policies and procedures.

c. Advertisement

In addition to its insertion in the Chronicle of Higher Education or other publications, the position announcement, accompanied by a description of the position, the department/school, the college, the University, and the Northern Kentucky area should be circulated, whenever advisable, to departments and deans of appropriate colleges and universities across the country. In addition, copies of the announcement must be sent to disciplinary-organization placement services and to appropriate caucuses representing women and minorities (if any), as specified by current university policy. Placement of the position announcement is to be reported to the dean and the Affirmative Action Office.

d. Candidate Qualifications

The Search Committee will require of all candidates a letter of application, a vita, and names, addresses, and phone numbers of at least five professional references. After an initial screening by the committee, candidates may be asked to have their letters of reference sent to the committee. Telephone interviews of references and candidates may be appropriate, as may video or electronic interviews of the candidates. No candidate will be appointed to the position without providing full official transcripts of undergraduate and graduate work to the Office of the Provost. Candidates must, except in extraordinary circumstances, possess the highest degree appropriate for those who teach in his/her discipline. Searches will generally follow the procedures in use for faculty and/or administrative searches.

e. Interviews

The Search Committee will select at least three candidates for on-campus interviews. Appropriately qualified women and minorities should be given full consideration for an interview. At the conclusion of the interview, the Search Committee will report to the dean which candidates are acceptable. The dean will meet with the search committee, at which meeting the committee members may express their preferences to the dean. As always, the dean may seek consultation with the faculty of the department/school before making a recommendation. If the dean agrees with the committee's recommendation, he/she will recommend a candidate to the provost. If none of the candidates is acceptable to the committee or to the dean, other candidates may be interviewed or a new search may be initiated. In no case will a candidate be recommended without an interview. Under normal circumstances, no candidate will be appointed as chair/director without agreement between the dean and the search committee. However, there may exist exceptional circumstances under which the dean may recommend to the provost a person not endorsed by the search committee. The dean will provide justification in writing for such action to the department/school faculty and to the provost.

f. Appointment

The dean will make a formal recommendation, with conditions of employment, to the provost that a candidate be employed as chair/director. This letter of recommendation must include the candidate's file with the material listed in D, above. Following approval by the provost and the president, a letter of offer, with a copy to the dean and notification to the Search Committee, will be sent to the candidate. Such letter must state that the offer is contingent on approval by the Board of Regents. Upon receipt of written acceptable by the candidate, the provost will recommend to the president that the candidate be employed. Upon approval of the president's recommendation by the Board of Regents, a formal contract will go into effect.

g. Terms of Appointment

- i. A term of appointment for an academic department chair/school director is four years. Continuing in the position from year to year within any term is contingent upon annual reviews by the department/school faculty and evaluation and approval by the dean.
- ii. Department chairs/school directors are initially appointed for a single term (See #1.)
- iii. The dean, in substantive consultation with the department/school and the provost, may reappoint a chair/director for additional terms.
- iv. Re-appointment for additional terms must be approved by the dean and the provost.

III. Internal Search

If the internal appointment of a chair/director is required by institutional constraints and the appointment is to be continuing, affirmative action procedures appropriate to internal searches will be followed. Furthermore, to insure fairness, the position announcement, candidate qualifications, interviews, and appointment will conform as closely as possible to the criteria for external searches.

IV. Acting Chairs/Directors

If a vacancy is to be filled by an acting chair or director, the dean, in consultation with the department/school faculty, will recommend to the provost a member of the NKU faculty to serve until a continuing appointment can be made. Acting chairs/directors will serve on a semester-to-semester basis; the dean must recommend their remaining in the position until circumstances permit the appointment of a continuing chair/director. However, in no case will an individual remain as acting chair/director for more than 24 months. Should an acting chair/director be appointed to the permanent position following an appropriate search, time in service as acting chair/director will accrue as time in service as chair/director, provided appointments were consecutive, and provided that the assignments and performance level expectations were commensurate with those of regular chairs/directors. If this is not the case, the chair/director will be advised in writing in advance of, or in conjunction with, the appointment.

SECTION THREE

TERMS OF APPOINTMENT OF CHAIRS/DIRECTORS

I. Review

After consultation with the department/school faculty and other appropriate persons, the dean will conduct an annual performance review based upon the duties of the chairs/directors delineated in this handbook. Recommendations by the dean for continued appointment and salary increases will be based upon the findings articulated in the performance review. Apart from the normal review process, the dean, the chair/director, or a majority of the department/school faculty may request a formal review of a chair's performance at any time, for the purpose of determining whether the chair/director should continue in the position. The procedure for this review will be written by the dean, in consultation with the chair/director and department/school faculty, prior to the review taking place. Prior to the end of a contract year, following consultation with the tenured faculty of the department/school and others as appropriate, a chair/director may be relieved of his/her duties by the dean, and the position declared vacant.

II. Teaching Load

The workload for the department chairs/school directors will be determined in consultation with the appropriate dean, taking into consideration other demands, assignments, or responsibilities, and teaching responsibilities will not normally exceed the equivalent of six credit hours per year.

III. Promotion and Tenure

- a. Promotion of a chair/director will follow, in general, the promotion procedures outlined in the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook except that the department's unit's Reappointment, Promotion, & Tenure committee will make its recommendations directly to the Dean. While administrative service associated with the Department Chair/School Director and their department's the achievements of their department/school will receive significant weight in promotion considerations, such service along alone cannot justify a positive case for promotion. Chairs/directors seeking promotion should work closely with their Dean to plan their progress towards reaching this goal and find ways to reserve time to focus on scholarship.
- b. If a chair/director is appointed from outside the university without tenure, the chair's performance will be reviewed by the dean and the department/school at or near the end of the first academic year of the appointment. In fall of the chair/director's second year, the dean will consult with the department/school and will review further the performance of the chair/director. The dean will then forward a recommendation regarding tenure to the provost. In the case of a positive recommendation, the chair/director will be granted tenure by the start of the third year in office. If tenure is denied, the individual chair can be continued as chair/director on probationary appointment, returned to the faculty in the same status, or terminated.

IV. Compensation

- a. Components of Chairs' Salaries Salary Components of Chairs/Directors
 - Faculty Salary Base
 This is the academic year salary at the time of appointment; it is determined for externally-appointed chairs/directors according to their discipline, rank, and experience. The faculty salary base of chairs/directors is subject to equity adjustments in accordance with policies designated for regular faculty salaries.
 - Twelve Month Compensation Settlement
 Faculty who have not served previously in administrative roles that provided an increase in salary with a return to faculty status at 85% of salary, will have their salary calculated as 33 percent of the faculty salary (based on academic year obligation for regular) and added to the salary base. The fiscal year administrative salary for faculty who have served previously in administrative positions and returned to faculty status at 85% of salary will be negotiated and will not exceed 25% of the faculty salary base added to the faculty salary base. Return to faculty status would be calculated as the faculty base prior to the addition of 25% plus salary increases during the period of the administrative appointment.

3. Administrative Stipends

Chairs/directors will receive a standard chair/director stipend amount that will be clearly defined on each Chair'sthe appointment form.

The current amount is $3,000. This amount is separate from the 12-month salary and may not be included for annual raise calculations.

The $3,000 stipend is lost upon relinquishing the ehairs' position of chair/director.

b. Calculation of Salary Increases

Annual raises shall be computed on a chair/director's 9-month salary plus 33 percent as determined by the appropriate college dean in light of performance.

c. Reversion to Regular Faculty Status

When returning to regular faculty status, a department chair/school director shall receive 85 percent of the total of her or his faculty salary base and 12-month compensation supplement, after the annual salary raise for the following year has been added to the chair's salary. Department chairs/school directors must serve at least four years to receive this benefit. Chairs/directors hired from within NKU and serving fewer than four full years shall receive as salary at least their current faculty base as of resignation. Chairs/directors hired from outside of NKU and granted tenure may return to faculty status at a salary base to be determined according to the appropriate discipline and rank. Chairs/directors returning to faculty status who have converted at 85% previously (see Section Three, A, 2) will return to faculty status at their faculty base prior to the administrative appointment plus any increases received during the administrative appointment.

If Chairs/directors wish to receive a July check, accrued vacation time can be accrued and used to pay this salary gap for July—a total of 20 days can be paid for this purpose at the end of July.

d. Calculation of TIAA-CREF and Other Salary-Related Benefits All contributions to TIAA-CREF and other benefits paid by salary level shall be calculated based on the total aggregate salary (academic year plus 33% plus administrative stipend) for the department chairs/school directors.

e. Contract Format

All chairs' contracts shall state as separate items the amount related to components described above (i.e. faculty salary base as recalculated annually, 12-months compensation supplement as recalculated annually, and the administrative stipend). The total aggregate salary also shall be stated clearly on the contract.

V. Annual Leave

- a. Annual leave begins accruing on a pay period basis from the initial date of appointment to the position of department chair/school director and will be credited on or before the first day following completion of each month of employment. The annual accrual allowance for a department chair/school director is 25 days.
- b. Annual leave will continue to accrue each pay period until the accrual maximum has been reached. The accrual maximum for a department chair/school director chair- is 20 days. No further accrual of the 25-day annual allowance will be made until the department chair/school director utilizes annual leave and the annual leave is less than 20 days.
- c. Accrued vacation days for department chairs/school directors, using the 20-day accrual maximum, will automatically carry into the next fiscal year.
- d. Annual leaves must be approved in advance by the department chair/school director's dean. A college dean may, in the best interest of the university, specify periods during which department chairs/school directors may not take annual leave.

VI. Leave for Chairs/Directors

The request must include a statement of the reason for the leave, a description of the efforts or project to be undertaken, the time period of the requested leave, and a current vita. The request must also be accompanied by approval of the appropriate dean. Upon approval by the provost, the request will be forwarded to the president. Upon presidential approval, the request will be forwarded to the Board of Regents for final action. In evaluation of an application, the following factors will be considered:

The president will notify the applicant of the final determination of the request within thirty days after action by the Board of Regents.

VIII. Sabbatical Leave

As holders of faculty rank, chairs/directors are fully eligible for sabbatical leaves so long as they meet the qualifications specified in the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook. Chairs/directors returning to faculty may also apply for a sabbatical leave based on the criteria and process outlined in the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook.

SECTION FOUR

RECOMMENDATION:

That the following amendment to the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook, regarding Reappointment, Promotion, and Tenure (RPT) criteria for librarians in W. Frank Steely Library, receive Board of Regents approval.

BACKGROUND:

The senate voted to approve these recommended changes to the handbook at the December 11, 2020 meeting. This revision adds to the description of library faculty to include both non-tenure-track renewable and temporary faculty.

PROPOSAL:

Current Faculty Handbook Language:

1.6. LIBRARIANS

Full-time librarians employed by the University in faculty positions are full-time, tenure-track faculty (see Section 1.2, Full-Time Tenure-Track Faculty). Part-time librarians employed by the University in faculty positions are part-time faculty.

Proposed Amendment:

1.6. LIBRARIANS

Full-time librarians employed by the University in faculty positions are full-time, tenure-track faculty, full-time, non-tenure-track, renewable faculty, or full-time, non-tenure-track, temporary faculty (see Section 1.2, Full Time Tenure Track Faculty). Part-time librarians employed by the University in faculty positions are part-time faculty (See Sections 1.1, 1.2, 1.3, 1.4, 1.5)

PROPOSAL:

Current Faculty Handbook Language:

7. APPOINTMENT, REAPPOINTMENT, PROMOTION, AND TENURE FOR LIBRARIANS

7.1 DISTINCT RESPONSIBILITIES

Librarians have responsibilities different from those of other faculty; they work on 12-month contracts and devote specified hours each week to their professional assignments in the libraries. Therefore, certain modifications have been made in criteria used in evaluation for reappointment, promotion, and tenure.

7.2. FACULTY STATUS AND RANK

Librarians at NKU have faculty status and rank (see Section 1.6, Librarians). The master's degree in library science is the appropriate terminal degree and is necessary for appointment to a library faculty position.

7.3. POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The policies and procedures for faculty presented in this Handbook apply to librarians as modified in this Section 7. Effective performance on the job replaces the teaching effectiveness category. The Steely Library and Chase Law Library are considered to be departments with regard to implementation of the reappointment, promotion, and tenure process. The dean of the Steely Library serves as department chair. The dean of the Steely Library will forward reappointment, promotion, and tenure recommendations to the provost. The director of Chase Law Library serves in the functions of department chair and reports to the dean of the College of Law.

7.4. RANKS FOR LIBRARIANS

Library faculty may be appointed to these ranks:

- Instructor of library services,
- Assistant professor of library services,
- Associate professor of library services, or
- Professor of library services.

(See Section 1.9, Qualifications for Appointment to Rank.)

 - Knowledge of new developments in library science and technology
 - Willingness to use suggestions, criticism, and evaluations to improve performance
- It is the responsibility of every librarian with faculty rank to know the various policies of the University, as set forth in this Handbook or as otherwise published. A failure to comply with a written university policy that has resulted in disciplinary sanction of the library faculty member may constitute unprofessional conduct and consequently may be relevant to evaluations related to reappointment, promotion, and tenure, or to performance review.

7.6. CRITERIA FOR REAPPOINTMENT, PROMOTION, AND TENURE

Librarians are evaluated for reappointment, promotion, and tenure on the basis of a continuing record of achievement and evidence of professional development. A strong performance is mandatory and of primary importance (see Section 7.5, above). It is expected that librarians will also meet the library's standards of scholarly and creative activity and institutional and public service. For librarians, scholarly and creative activity may also include activity in education, e.g. offering formal classroom instruction, conducting workshops, conferences, or other informal educational activities; consultation; and professional committee work.

Proposed Amendment:

7. APPOINTMENT, REAPPOINTMENT, PROMOTION, AND TENURE FOR LIBRARIANS

7.1 DISTINCT RESPONSIBILITIES

Therefore, certain modifications have been made in criteria used in evaluation for reappointment, promotion, and tenure.

7.2. FACULTY STATUS AND RANK

For librarians, scholarly and creative activity may also include activity in education, e.g. offering formal classroom instruction, conducting workshops, conferences, or other informal educational activities; consultation; and professional committee work.

In making evaluations required for library faculty reappointment, promotion, and tenure, three major categories of professional responsibility are to be used. These categories, in order of importance, are position; scholarship and creative activity (see section 3.1.2); and service to the University, the discipline/profession and the community (see section 3.1.3).

7.5.1 Position

Effective position performance for librarians requires meeting the responsibilities and priorities of their positions within the library organization. Assessment of effective performance should take into account all activities and contributions made in their positions to further the mission and services of the library.

RECOMMENDATION:

That a Bachelor's Degree in Education, Culture and Society, as outlined in the accompanying proposal, be approved for immediate implementation.

BACKGROUND:

The BA in Education, Culture and Society would provide undergraduate students an opportunity to earn a meaningful degree in education, without a teaching certificate. Data concerning student interest and/or need for this degree was determined by the College of Education Advising Center. This degree will target four different groups of students: 1) undergraduate students who have been unsuccessful in the teacher education degree program; 2) undergraduate students who, after investing time, energy, and money into a teaching degree, no longer desire to pursue a teaching certificate; and 3) undergraduate students who are interested in education, but who cannot pass the PRAXIS I entrance exam; and 4)undergraduate students interested in education-related fields not involving teaching.

This undergraduate program offers opportunities for students to develop and apply innovative and practical understandings of education from multidisciplinary perspectives. Education is broadly defined to include formal school contexts as well as non-formal courses in social foundations of education; fundamentals in curriculum, instruction, and assessment; equity and education; and the culminating capstone. Culture is broadly defined as a set of behaviors, attitudes, and beliefs that allow a professional to be effective in a variety of crosscultural situations. Society is broadly defined as a group of people with common territory, interaction, and culture. All three are interwoven throughout the program and embedded into the central focus. The program does not lead to PrimaryK-12 teaching certification upon completion.

The proposed program is unique in that it focuses on the broad array of possibilities in the education field outside of teaching. There exists a plethora of opportunities of non-teaching positions in education-related fields, but many candidates, including teacher candidates, are unaware of the possibilities.

The program offers a culminating capstone with options, such as career-oriented internships and apprenticeships as well as service-learning community engagements, that provide candidates with experiential learning. The capstone provides candidates the opportunity to investigate and experience the different possibilities in the field.

The anticipated date of implementation is Fall 2021.

ABSTRACT (limit one page or less)

This information would be the same as abstract (section 1) from SACSCOC's Substantive Change Form.

a. Describe the new program with its estimated date of implementation.

This undergraduate program offers opportunities for students to develop and apply innovative and practical understandings of education from multidisciplinary perspectives. Education is broadly defined to include formal school contexts as well as non-formal courses in social foundations of education; fundamentals in curriculum, instruction, and assessment; equity and education; and the culminating capstone. Culture is broadly defined as a set of behaviors, attitudes, and beliefs that allow a professional to be effective in a variety of cross-cultural situations. Society is broadly defined as a group of people with common territory, interaction, and culture. All three are interwoven throughout the program and embedded into the central focus. The program does not lead to PrimaryK-12 teaching certification upon completion.

The program curriculum consists of a total of 120 credit hours, including the Foundation of Knowledge general education requirement (37 hours), core courses (27 credit hours), and the choice of the following:

- 1. Track #1 (36 credit hours) + Track #2 (12 credit hours) + electives (16 credit hours)
- 2. Two tracks (24 credit hours each = 48 hours total) + electives (16 credit hours)

The anticipated date of implementation is Fall 2021.

b. Specify any distinctive qualities of the program.

The proposed program is unique in that it focuses on the broad array of possibilities in the education field outside of teaching. There exist a plethora of opportunities of non-teaching positions in education-related fields, but many candidates, including teacher candidates, are unaware of the possibilities.

The program offers a culminating capstone with options, such as career-oriented internships and apprenticeships as well as service-learning community engagements, that provide candidates with experiential learning. The capstone provides candidates the opportunity to investigate and experience the different possibilities in the field.

J. Identify where the new program will be offered.

Identify where the new program will be offered.

The program will be offered at the Northern Kentucky University main campus.

e. Describe strengths of the institution to undertake this new program.

Northern Kentucky University's strategic framework consists of three pillars: ACCESS, COMPLETION, and CAREER AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT. The pillars guide the work as the campus as it determines how NKU delivers support, services, and programs to all learners - not just traditional students - by meeting the learners where they are in their educational journey. The College of Education embraces the motto of Learn, Lead, and Succeed with our students. Learn - we offer a wide range of undergraduate and graduate learning opportunities and programs in authentic settings. Lead - our faculty and staff are leaders in the community and in their discipline. Succeed - the programs offered in our college have an excellent reputation because of the educational opportunities that are available. This transition to this new program is being offered to broaden the reach of the College of Education and the other Colleges across campus to align the strategic framework of the university in meeting the needs of all in their educational journey.

DETERMINATION OF NEED

Courses with multiple entry, exit, and reentry points

Modularized courses

Courses with "rolling" entrance and completion times, based on self-pacing

a. Describe how the New Program is consistent with the mission and goals of the institution.*

This program is aligned to NKU's mission to address academic innovation, talent development, student success, and community engagement:

- The program's core courses draw from the College of Education, in collaboration with other programs across the university for concentration courses in four thematic areas: (a) youth and community studies; (b) diversity and social justice; (c) workforce development; and (d) teaching and learning.
- It prepares graduates to address critical needs in the current and future workforce, including working with diverse colleagues and customers locally and globally, and equipping themselves with innovative use of technology and design thinking.
- It prepares students to understand and analyze formal and non-formal education at all levels and life stages, so they can seek employment in educational settings that do not require P-12 teaching certification.
- Students who are not successful in the teaching certification programs, or decide that teaching is not the appropriate career path, can switch to this program more seamlessly, thereby improving student retention and graduation rates.
- The program offers a culminating capstone with options, such as career-oriented internships and apprenticeships as well as service-learning community engagements.

b. Describe the rationale and need for the program to include how the institution determined need.*

The BA in Education, Culture and Society would provide undergraduate students an opportunity to earn a meaningful degree in education, without a teaching certificate. Data concerning student interest and/or need for this degree was determined by the College of Education Advising Center. This degree will target four different groups of students: 1) undergraduate students who have been unsuccessful in the teacher education degree program; 2) undergraduate students who, after investing time, energy, and money into a teaching degree, no longer desire to pursue a teaching certificate; and 3) undergraduate students who are interested in education, but who cannot pass the PRAXIS I entrance exam; and 4)undergraduate students interested in education-related fields not involving teaching.

To be admitted into the Teacher Education Program, undergraduate students must successfully earn 45 credit hours, have a 2.75 GPA or higher, have passing scores on all three parts of the Praxis I Core Academic Skills for Educators exam, and complete EDU 104 and PSY 100 with a grade of C or better. These admission criteria demonstrate the student's commitment to the degree. Once admitted, students must complete a myriad of courses related to their area of study with demonstrated success of a C or higher in most courses, as well as successful field experiences and disposition and professional behavior checks each year.

Unsuccessful in Teacher Education: Slipping below a 2.75 grade point, poor performance during field placements, or disposition and professional behavior concerns will stop a student from moving forward in their studies as teacher candidates. At this point, students have invested time, energy and money toward becoming a teacher, but lack the knowledge, skills, or dispositions to successfully complete the program. To allow these students to graduate with a meaningful degree, students could use their earned credits toward a non-teaching education degree that would allow them to move into an alternative career path. We have experienced approximately one student per semester over the past 15 years who would benefit from this option.

Career Goal Changes: Sometimes, through the field experiences or coursework, teacher education candidates learn that teaching is not the best career for them. Or, due to life realities, teaching no longer is a desired outcome. As in the previous example, students have invested too much time, energy, and money into a teaching degree to change midstream. To provide these students with a meaningful degree, students could use their earned credits toward a non-teaching education degree that would allow them to move into an alternative career path. We have experienced approximately one student per year who would benefit from this option.

Unsuccessful with PRAXIS I Exam: Teacher Education historically has more students declaring an education major than who actually successfully enter the program due to difficulties with passing the PRAXIS I exam. The PRAXIS I is a prerequisite to entrance into teacher education. We have experienced approximately 20 students per semester who might consider this alternative BA degree as an option if available.

Education-Related Fields: Education-related fields include working for educational publication companies, educational materials and software development, educational architecture, educational outreach. Students who wish to gain insight into the field of education for use to develop an area of expertise in their primary field could add the BA in Education, Culture and Society as a double major. The College of Education has seen an increase in this request as undergraduates representing a variety of fields across campus take courses in American Sign Language (ASL) in this college. The value of adding expertise in education has been expressed to the ASL instructor by at least 10 students each semester, but the students are hesitant to add to their course load without an additional meaningful degree or credential as an outcome.

c. Provide evidence of legal authority for the change/addition of new program, if approval is required by the governing board or the state.*

Northern Kentucky University is accredited by the SACSCOC for associate, baccalaureate, masters, and doctorate degrees.

d. Provide appropriate other groups were

for the approval(s)

The curriculum is controlled by the faculty and to support this process; there are several faculty-based committees that are involved in curriculum changes: Faculty Senate - comprised of one member per academic department plus at-large member from each college; University Curriculum Committee - a Faculty Senate subcommittee whose membership is primarily composed of one faculty representative from each academic unit plus a member from the program in the School of the Arts; Graduate Council - charged with handling all graduate program affairs; General Education Committee - Faculty Senate Subcommittee whose structure and membership is controlled by the Faculty Senate Executive Committee; Teacher Education Committee - oversees curricular changes that by state requirements, must be specifically approved by a committee of this college; College Curriculum Committees - every college has its own curriculum committee comprised of faculty from each academic department; Departmental curriculum committees - departments have the option to have their own curriculum committees as desiterd.

REQUIRED INFORMATION FOR NEW PROGRAMS

Provide specific programmatic goals for the program. *

The curriculum is designed specifically to align with the program objectives.

Objective 1: Students will demonstrate knowledge about foundational and contemporary concepts, theories, and practices in formal and non-formal education at various levels and life stages.

Curriculum Alignment: The proposed program covers foundations of education, including an Orientation to Education Professions course, Human Growth and Development, an Introduction to Education course, Racism and Sexism in Educational Institutions, Instructional Technology, and Children with Exceptionalities. These courses create the framework for the program, providing candidates with knowledge about educational issues, contemporary concepts and theories, and information about both formal and non-formal educational programs across the lifespan.

Objective 2: Students will be able to design and implement educational programs, curriculum, instruction, and assessment that are geared to support various learners' continued growth and development.

Curriculum Alignment: In the Instructional Design course, candidates will gain valuable information on how to design and implement educational programs, curriculum, instruction, and assessment. Additional information will be provided in applied ways through the Reading and Writing courses, and the course on Applied Behavior Analysis. These classes create experiential learning opportunities for candidates to apply course content to education-related experiences.

Objective 3: Students will acquire interdisciplinary tools for thinking about issues of inequality, diversity, and power in education at the individual, interpersonal, and institutional levels and about anti-oppressive approaches to address them.

Curriculum Alignment: EDU 316 Racism and Sexism in Educational Institutions is a course that focuses on helping candidates use and develop interdisciplinary tools for thinking about issues of inequality and diversity at the individual, interpersonal, and institutional levels. Candidates learn to recognize oppressive and anti-oppressive approaches in this course.

Objective 4: Students will gain an understanding of and apply research-based and datainformed approaches to investigating and seeking solutions for educational problems of practice.

Curriculum Alignment: The Applied Behavior Analysis course and the Reading and Writing courses require candidates to learn about and apply research-based approaches for teaching and learning. Candidates also engage in data-based decision making in both of these courses.

Objective 5: Students will learn how to systematically analyze human sociocultural conditions (e.g. individuals, groups, and communities). In particular, students will learn how to theorize, observe, interview, analyze, model, and/or interpret as a means of inquiring into human sociocultural relationships.

Curriculum Alignment: This project will tie together the other courses in the program. For example, in the Applied Behavior Analysis and the Reading/Writing courses, candidates will learn how to use the above skills in supporting individual social and academic behavior.

The Educational Capstone for this program will operate as an independent research project related to an experiential internship. Although designed to meet the needs and interests of the candidates, the course will be structured to promote the systematic analysis of human sociocultural conditions, and apply theory, observation, interview, analysis, modeling, and interpreting skills throughout

Provide specific student learning outcomes for the program.

1. Students will demonstrate knowledge about foundational and contemporary concepts, theories, and practices in formal and non-formal education at various levels and life stages. 2. Students will be able to design and implement educational programs, curriculum, instruction, and assessment that are geared to support various learners' continued growth and development. 3. Students will acquire interdisciplinary tools for thinking about issues of inequality, diversity, and power in education at the individual, interpersonal, and institutional levels and about anti-oppressive approaches to address them. 4. Students will gain an understanding of and apply research-based and data-informed approaches to investigating and seeking solutions for educational problems of practice. 5. Students will learn how to systematically analyze human sociocultural conditions (e.g. individuals, groups, and communities). In particular, students will learn how to theorize, observe, interview, analyze, model, and/or interpret as a means of inquiring into human sociocultural relationships.

Describe assessment procedures for the proposed program. These procedures may include evaluation of courses and faculty by students, administrators, and departmental personnel as appropriate. Program review procedures shall include standards and guidelines for the assessment of student outcomes implied by the program objectives and consistent with the institutional mission.

For each assessment method, please provide direct indicators of achievement of program-level student learning outcomes and frequency of data collection:

Describe admissions and graduation requirements for the program.*

Admission: High school or equivalent completion credentials verification & satisfactory standardized test performance. The degree requires 120 credit hours.

Describe administrative oversight to ensure the quality of the program.

For every program, the university requires an annual assessment utilizing WEAVE to document how the different units on campus are measuring goals and outcomes. These are reviewed by the University Assessment Committee (UAC) who have the primary goals to educate, inform, and support the university in implementing student learning outcome assessment practices. In addition, all faculty assess their own course through the use of end of the semester student evaluations and planned faculty peer reviews. Changes to courses are facilitated through discussion based on best practices.

For a program offered in compressed time frames (less than full semester), describe the methodology for determing that levels of knowledge and competencies comparable to those required in traditional formats have been achieved.*

No courses will be offered in a compressed time frame.

PROGRAM DEMAND/UNNECESSARY DUPLICATION

Program Demand / Unnecessary Duplication / Collaboration within and among other Institutions. (Please provide Gray Associates Program Evaluation System Scorecard data snapshot for new program.)

Program Demand/Unnecessary Duplication

Proposed programs must respond to the needs of the academy and to larger economic and social environments. Thus, the institution must demonstrate demand for the proposed program. All proposed programs must address student demand. Programs must also address either employer demand or academic disciplinary needs.

STUDENT DEMAND

a. Provide evidence of student demand. Evidence of student demand is typically in the form of surveys of potential students or enrollments in related programs at the institution, but other methods of gauging student demand are acceptable. *

The BA in Education, Culture and Society would provide undergraduate students an opportunity to earn a meaningful degree in education, without a teaching certificate. Data concerning student interest and/or need for this degree was determined by the College of Education Advising Center. This degree will target four different groups of students: 1) undergraduate students who have been unsuccessful in the teacher education degree program; 2) undergraduate students who, after investing time, energy, and money into a teaching degree, no longer desire to pursue a teaching certificate; and 3) undergraduate students who are interested in education, but who cannot pass the PRAXIS I entrance exam; and 4)undergraduate students interested in education-related fields not involving teaching.

To be admitted into the Teacher Education Program, undergraduate students must successfully earn 45 credit hours, have a 2.75 GPA or higher, have passing scores on all three parts of the Praxis I Core Academic Skills for Educators exam, and complete EDU 104 and PSY 100 with a grade of C or better. These admission criteria demonstrate the student's commitment to the degree. Once admitted, students must complete a myriad of courses related to their area of study with demonstrated success of a C or higher in most courses, as well as successful field experiences and disposition and professional behavior checks each year.

Unsuccessful in Teacher Education: Slipping below a 2.75 grade point, poor performance during field placements, or disposition and professional behavior concerns will stop a student from moving forward in their studies as teacher candidates. At this point, students have invested time, energy and money toward becoming a teacher, but lack the knowledge, skills, or dispositions to successfully complete the program. To allow these students to graduate with a meaningful degree, students could use their earned credits toward a non-teaching education degree that would allow them to move into an alternative career path. We have experienced approximately one student per semester over the past 15 years who would benefit from this option.

Career Goal Changes: Sometimes, through the field experiences or coursework, teacher education candidates learn that teaching is not the best career for them. Or, due to life realities, teaching no longer is a desired outcome. As in the previous example, students have invested too much time, energy, and money into a teaching degree to change midstream. To provide these students with a meaningful degree, students could use their earned credits toward a non-teaching education degree that would allow them to move into an alternative career path. We have experienced approximately one student per year who would benefit from this option.

Unsuccessful with PRAXIS I Exam: Teacher Education historically has more students declaring an education major than who actually successfully enter the program due to difficulties with passing the PRAXIS I exam. The PRAXIS I is a prerequisite to entrance into teacher education. We have experienced approximately 20 students per semester who might consider this alternative BA degree as an option if available.

Justification: This is an open-ended response that will be used in CPE agenda items. Within your response you should also establish the demand for this program and note if it replaces another program on campus. Remember that the audience will be CPE, not higher education administrators, faculty or staff.

Justification:*

Fall Semester Year 5*

- The program's core courses draw from the College of Education, in collaboration with other programs across the university for concentration courses in four thematic areas: (a) youth and community studies; (b) diversity and social justice; (c) workforce development; and (d) teaching and learning.
- It prepares graduates to address critical needs in the current and future workforce, including working with diverse colleagues and customers locally and globally and equipping themselves with innovative use of technology and design thinking.
- It prepares students to understand and analyze formal and non-formal education at all levels and life stages, so they can seek employment in educational settings that do not require P-12 teaching certification.
- Students who are not successful in the teaching certification programs, or decide that teaching is not the appropriate career path, can switch to this program more seamlessly, thereby improving student retention and graduation rates.
- The program offers a culminating capstone with options, such as career-oriented internships and apprenticeships as well as service-learning community engagements.

EMPLOYER DEMAND

Clearly describe evidence of employer demand. Such evidence may include employer surveys, current labor market analyses, and future human resources projections. Where appropriate, evidence should demonstrate employers' preferences for graduates of the proposed program over persons having alternative existing credentials and employers' willingness to pay higher salaries to graduates of the proposed program.

Data provided in tables must be uploaded.

Justification

A career in education can be rewarding, fulfilling, and exhilarating. Many teachers love shaping young minds and helping prepare students for a changing future. However, as seen from in Question 1 above, there are some students who find that this is not the career path for them, yet still want to retain the skills they have learned thus far.

- Education Administration: Administrators help set school policies and goals, represent the school in the community, manage staff, oversee disciplinary actions, allocate resources, and handle other day-to-day operations.
 - · Assistant Principal
 - Principal
 - Superintendent
 - School District administrator
- Curriculum design: For those who prefer to create a teaching plan rather than teach it, curriculum design may be an excellent choice. Curriculum design professionals develop educational programs and instructional materials for schools, organizations, and companies. They usually have a deep understanding of a particular subject, as well as extensive knowledge of teaching theory and technique. A related field is standardized testing, which involves creating, implementing, as assessing the results of examinations ranging from state achievement tests to college admission tests.
 - · Instructional coordinator
 - · Instructional designer
 - Standardized test developer
- Student counseling: Counseling positions are ideal for education majors who value the interpersonal connections of working with students but prefer a one-on-one structure.
 - · Guidance counselor
 - School psychologist
 - · Career counselor
 - · Juvenile corrections worker
 - Family counselor
 - Education consultant
 - · Admissions counselor/recruiter
 - · Child life specialist
- Recreation and student life: Learning is not all work and no play. Young people discover a great deal about teamwork, communication, and responsibility through extracurricular and recreational activities. Jobs in this area are for those who prefer working with young people in a more relaxed environment but still want to have a big impact on their lives.
 - · After-school program/youth organization director
 - · Camp director
 - Student activities coordinator
 - · Fraternity and sorority life director

- · Residential life director
- Education policy and research: Education policymakers develop and implement practices and policies that aim to better the education system. Their decisions are based on extensive education research, which tests policies and practices to assess their efficacy. Both policymakers and researchers are generally seasoned experts with teaching backgrounds.
 - Department of Education professional
 - · Think tank associate
 - Researcher
 - Lobbyist
 - · Textbook author or editor
 - Textbook sales representative
 - Reporter
 - Blogger
- Writing/publishing: The world of textbook publishing offers a wide array of opportunities, whether in editing or sales. There also are positions at media outlets for reporters who specialize in education topics, as well as increasing number of successful education bloggers.
- Childcare: Educators interested in early childhood development should consider the childcare field. And don't write off the idea of nannying because you have a college degree.
- Adult education and mentoring: Adult educators find their careers to be extremely rewarding. In addition, life coaching is a rapidly growing field that may interested educators who enjoy helping motivate others.
 - · Adult education teacher
 - · Adult ESL, Literacy, or GED teacher
 - · Prison system teacher
 - Life Coach
- Teach in alternative settings: Museums and other local attractions host workshops, activities, and tours that are a perfect match for an education major's skills. In addition, corporations sometimes bring in trainers to assist with employee orientation, to roll out new procedures, or to facilitate workshops. On the other hand, nonprofits may employee teachers to education communities about topics.
 - Museum educator or activities director
 - Tour guide at a local attraction
 - Corporate trainer
 - Health educator

Academic Disciplinary Need:

If the program proposal is in response to changes in academic disciplinary need, as opposed to employer demand, please outline those changes. Explain why these changes to the disciple necessitate development of a new program.

Clearly describe all evidence justifying a new program based on changes in the academic discipline or other academic reasons* companies, educational materials and software development, educational architecture, professional development fields, social work in schools, psychology, and any field that conducts educational outreach. Students who wish to gain insight into the field of education for use to develop an area of expertise in their primary field could add the BA in Education, Culture and Society as a double major. The College of Education has seen an increase in this request as undergraduates representing a variety of fields across campus take courses in American Sign Language (ASL) in this college. The value of adding expertise in education has been expressed to the ASL instructor by at least 10 students each semester, but the students are hesitant to add to their course load without an additional meaningful degree or credential as an outcome.

If similar programs exist in Kentucky,

How will the program support or be supported by other programs within the institution?

Students who are not successful in the teaching certification programs can switch to this program more seamlessly, thereby improving student retention and graduation rates.

Northern Kentucky University and the College of Education are well-positioned to launch and run this program successfully. College oversight will be provided by the Dean of the College of Education. Program quality is further assured through oversight and collaboration with the Assistant Vice Provost for Assessment.

The program will be administered by faculty with experience in developing and implementing education courses. In addition, the university and college have robust library resources, instructional technology support, office space and equipment, and advising infrastructure.

CPE ID 13 0101

Provide contingency plans in the event that required resources do not materialize.

The College of Education teaches the core courses for students who are pre-education majors and the other courses offered in the program are offered across the campus as general education courses or those for students pursuing other majors. We will utilize existing faculty lines to start the program and add an additional faculty line in year three along with adjunct lines when needed. In the very unlikely event, the projected resources from additional enrollment do not meet the projections, additional faculty and adjuncts will not be called for in the business plan.

INSTITUTIONAL EVALUATION AND ASSESSMENT PROCESS

Provide a brief description of institutional assessment processes.

For every program, the university requires an annual assessment utilizing WEAVE to document how the different units on campus are measuring goals and outcomes. These are reviewed by the University Assessment Committee (UAC) who have the primary goals to educate, inform, and support the university in implementing student learning outcome assessment practices. In addition, all faculty assess their own course through the use of end of the semester student evaluations and planned faculty peer reviews. Changes to courses are facilitated through discussion based on best practices.

Describe how the institution will program, site, distance education or other changes into the institution-wide review and assessment process.

The university will assist in the development and implementation of learning assessment plans incorporate the and strategies and suggest policies and procedures related to student learning assessment. In addition, recommendations to share assessment experiences and practices across programs will be encouraged. A final assessment report will be submitted to the Vice Provost for Undergraduate Academic Affairs.

What are the plans to evaluate students' post-graduate success?

- Employer surveys.
- Graduate surveys
- A review/feedback process managed by CAEP (Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation)

RECOMMENDATION:

That a Master's Degree in Cybersecurity, as outlined in the accompanying proposal, be approved for immediate implementation.

BACKGROUND:

The online Master of Science in Cybersecurity program prepares students for rewarding careers in one of the fastest growing areas of information technology. Students will learn both the theory and practice of cybersecurity, including how to protect and defend systems, identify and handle security incidents, and manage risks. Practical hands-on activities on local systems and in the cloud will be included in most courses. Northern Kentucky University is a DHS/NSA Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education.

While MS/cybersecurity program will focus on technical skills, demonstration of oral or written presentation skills will also be required in each course. Classes will be taught in an accelerated, online format in collaboration with Academic Partnerships.

It will be used within the Department of Computer Science at NKU but will be offered solely as an online program through AP.

Career changers who already have a degree in another field and who want to move into a career in cybersecurity.

NKU has a strong institutional focus on informational fields. In 2005, the university created the College of Informatics (CoI) as a home for a broad range of computational and informational programs. Current CoI degree programs include communication, computer science, cybersecurity, data science, health and library informatics, information systems, and information technology. NKU has offered individual cybersecurity courses since the 1990s and currently offers a wide variety of cybersecurity programs, including a B.S. in cybersecurity, minors in computer forensics and information security, certificates, and undergraduate degree tracks in the information systems and information technology B.S. degrees. NKU became a DHS/NSA Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education in 2014.

e. Describe strengths of the institution to undertake this new program.	NKU is a DHS/NSA Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education, with extensive experience providing cybersecurity education starting in the late 1990s. NKU already offers a Bachelor of Science in Cybersecurity degree, along with a Cybersecurity track in the Bachelor of Science in Computer Information Technology. The university also offers minors in computer forensics and information security, along with an undergraduate certificate in cybersecurity. Five full time faculty members specialize in cybersecurity education and research.

a. Describe how the New Program is consistent with the mission and goals of the institution.*

NKU has a strong institutional focus on informational fields. In 2005, the university created the College of Informatics (CoI) as a home for a broad range of computational and informational programs. Current CoI degree programs include communication, computer science, cybersecurity, data science, health and library informatics, information systems, and information technology. NKU has offered individual cybersecurity courses since the 1990s and currently offers a wide variety of cybersecurity programs, including a B.S. in cybersecurity, minors in computer forensics and information security, certificates, and undergraduate degree tracks in the information systems and information technology B.S. degrees. NKU became a DHS/NSA Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education in 2014.

b. Describe the rationale and need for the program to include how the institution determined need.*

A. Industry Need

In 2020, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released its forecast of 20 fastest growing occupations with the highest percent change of employment between 2019-29 [1]. Information security analysts is one of these fastest growing occupations, with a 31% growth in number of available jobs. According to BLS website "Demand for information security analysts is expected to be very high, as these analysts will be needed to create innovative solutions to prevent hackers from stealing critical information or causing problems for computer networks." The quick facts card from the Bureau of Labor Statistics is shown below:

Table 1. Quick Facts: Information Security Analysts

2019 Median Pav	$99,730 per year $47.95 per hour
Work Experience in a Related Occupation	Less than 5 years
Number of Jobs, 2019	131,000
Job Outlook, 2019-29	31% (Much faster than average)
Employment Change, 2019-29	40,900

We also researched the demand for cybersecurity graduates using the federal government's CyberSeek web site (cyberseek.org). On December 17, 2020, there were the following numbers of open cybersecurity job positions, indicating a high demand for cybersecurity talent:

National open positions: 521,617

Kentucky open positions: 2,333

Greater Cincinnati metropolitan area open positions: 2,514

The Master of Science in Cybersecurity Committee conducted an Employer/Professional survey (see Addendum - Employer Survey) of a broad spectrum of organizations that would be likely to employ graduates from the MS in Cybersecurity program. E-mail requests for participation in an online survey were forwarded to many individuals from the tri-state region including employers in the areas of healthcare, government, technology-related business, retail, and education. Since we encouraged people to share this survey, it is difficult to estimate how many cybersecurity professionals were contacted. The survey was conducted between October 20, 2020 and November 6, 2020. We received 42 answers from 28 organizations. It should be noted that many of these organizations had no prior ties to the department or to faculty or programs at the University.

The results of the survey are summarized in Addendum - Employer Survey Results. It is worth mentioning that 23 out of 34 respondents answered that their employer has difficulties in finding qualified cybersecurity professionals, and 23 out of 36 considers that their employer will be interested in hiring graduates of this new proposed MS in Cybersecurity program (12 answers were "I do not know" – respondents not being part of the hiring decisions).

All respondents were asked to provide comments and suggestions as well as to answer questions regarding most important cybersecurity topics and certifications. All open answers are also included in Addendum - Employer Survey Results.

B. Student Demand

We are very fortunate to work with a top marketing company in the education area, Academic Partnerships. While our partner is well more knowledgeable in assessing the student demand, the Master of Science in Cybersecurity Committee anticipates that two categories of individual to be interested in the proposed program. These categories are:

- Individuals with bachelor degrees in a more or less related area that understand the increased demand for cybersecurity occupations and want to shift their career path.
 They are already at a point where they want to pursue a Master degree and they will not consider going back to pursue a new Bachelor degree. We anticipate that the majority of our potential students fit into this category.
- Individuals with technical degrees (such as BS in Computer Science, Computer Engineering, Cybersecurity, Information Technology, etc.) with some cybersecurity experience who want to refine their knowledge.

To assess the market demand from outside NKU we used the Employer/Professional survey already described in the previous section. As you can see from the results presented in

To ascertain demand from current NKU students, the Master of Science in Cybersecurity Committee conducted an online Student survey (see Addendum - Student Survey). The survey was e-mailed to all students that are part of a Canvas group created for students with enrolled in a program hosted in the Computer Science Department, approximately 800 students.

We received a total of 35 answers. The results of the survey are summarized in Addendum - Student Survey Results. The student's comments are also included in Addendum - Student Survey Results.

A few direct measures of potential student demand and interest are presented below:

- 30 students out of 35 are at least somewhat likely to apply for MS in Cybersecurity admission. Out of those, 5 are very likely to apply and 8 are likely to apply.
- · All suggested cybersecurity topics are ranked high in terms of student's interest.

Based upon the results of the student and employer/professional surveys, there appears to be significant student demand for an MS in Cybersecurity.

c. Provide evidence of legal authority for the change/addition of new program, if approval is required by the governing board or the state.*

d. Provide documentation that faculty and appropriate other groups were involoved in planning for the approval(s)

New degree proposals at NKU must undergo a multistep process, starting with faculty discussions and including approval by the department and the college curriculum committee before going on to the University Curriculum Council (UCC) and Faculty Senate. Graduate programs must obtain approval from Graduate Council before requesting UCC approval. Once faculty senate approves a degree program, the proposal must be approved by the Academic Affairs Council, which includes deans and other administrators. Documentation for the process can be found at https://inside.nku.edu/viceprovost/curriculum/program_approval.html.

Provide specific programmatic goals for the program. *

Upon graduation, students should be able to

- 1. demonstrate problem solving skills needed to obtain employment in the field of cybersecurity,
- 2. effectively communicate using both oral and written media,
- 3. incorporate ethical and social issues in their decision making,
- 4. continuously learn and grow their cybersecurity skills.

Provide specific student learning outcomes for the program. Explain the processes and technologies needed to secure the information infrastructure of a modern organization. (Cybersecurity Fundamentals, Cloud Security, Network Security) Apply security principles and practices to maintain operations in the presence of risks and threats. (Cybersecurity Fundamentals, Cloud Security, Ethical Hacking) Investigate digital evidence with appropriate tools to detect and analyze security incidents. (Incident Response) Design secure cyberinfrastructure applying security principles. (Security Architecture, Cloud Security).

Describe how the student learning outcomes for the program will be assessed?*

The MS in Cybersecurity assessment plan aims to continuously improve the quality of this graduate degree program. To accomplish this purpose, we plan to implement all four stages needed for a program assessment:

- 1. Review program SLOs and update them if necessary.
- 2. Design the assessment instruments and rubrics.
- 3. Create a clear process for data collection and analysis
- 4. Make decisions to improve the program based on assessment data.

We plan to follow our home department's policy of assessing one SLO per semester, allowing us to assess all 4 program SLOs in a two year cycle. The department assessment coordinator will schedule faculty each semester to collect artifacts for the SLO being assessed. Faculty teaching the course will include the testing instrument among their normal course assessment. The assessment coordinator will collect assessment artifacts at the end of the semester. After the end of the semester, the program director and faculty who teach the courses being assessed will evaluate the artifacts and compare the results to the target. Based on results of that semester's assessment, this group will suggest possible courses of actions, such as altering course content, changing assessment instruments, making substantive changes to curriculum, or updating the goal and SLOs.

Describe admissions and graduation requirements for the program.*

Applications for the MS cybersecurity program are accepted for all terms. Students must meet the requirements of the NKU Office of Graduate Education: a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution, an undergraduate GPA of at least 2.5, a GPA of at least 3.0 in any graduate work in the same field, demonstration of English proficiency for non-native English speakers, a graduate application submitted with the application fee, and official transcript.

Describe administrative oversight to ensure the quality of the program.

Administrative oversight of the program includes three components: an annual report to the dean of the College of Informatics, annual program assessment with reports submitted to the Associate VIce Provost of Assessment, and major changes will be reviewed by the advisory board of NKU's Center of Information Security, which has responsibility for cybersecurity educational programs across the university.

For a program offered in compressed time frames (less than full semester), describe the methodology for determing that levels of knowledge and competencies comparable to those required in traditional formats have been achieved.*

Student learning outcomes and assessment of student learning in the proposed program, are based on industry competencies which are used to gauge professional readiness for a career in cybersecurity. Professional readiness and success indicators do not vary with time frames.

INSTITUTIONAL EVALUATION AND ASSESSMENT PROCESS

Provide a brief	description of institutional assessment processes.

The Associate Vice Provost for Assessment established a standard assessment process and created a University Assessment Committee, which is populated by faculty members from a broad range of colleges, departments, and academic offices. The assessment process begins at the start of fall semester with an email describing the current assessment requirements and deadlines. Each department must submit its annual assessment plan for the current academic year by October 15th, while assessment reports for the previous academic year are due on September 15th. Assessment reports are reviewed and feedback is provided to the departments in October before the deadline for the current year's assessment plan. Departments choose how to schedule their SLO assessments. We plan to follow our home department's policy of assessing one SLO per semester, allowing us to assess all 4 program SLOs in a two year cycle.

Describe how the institution will incorporate the program, site, distance education or other changes into the institution-wide review and assessment process.

The program will be assessed using the same requirements and schedule as existing degree programs, starting in the first year that the program is offered.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Regents adopt the 2022-2028 Capital Plan.

BACKGROUND:

The biennial budget process is divided into two distinct parts, (1) the biennial capital budget; and, (2) the biennial operating budget. The capital budget is preceded by the six-year capital planning process. The NKU Capital Plan is a six year plan, consisting of projects to be requested in the 2022-2024 Capital Budget Request and those projects anticipated for inclusion in the 2024-2026 and the 2026-2028 Capital Budget Requests.

KRS 7A.010-170, passed by the General Assembly in 1990, requires all state agencies to submit six year capital plans. The purpose of this planning is to enable the legislature to understand the comprehensive capital needs of the state and to coordinate space requests from state agencies. The capital plan includes:

- All construction projects with a scope of $1,000,000 or more for all three biennia.
- For 2022-2024, information technology projects with a scope of $1,000,000 or more.
- For 2022-2024, equipment projects with a scope of $200,000 or more.

Capital Plan projects are reviewed by the Capital Planning Advisory Board (CPAB) and CPE. The CPAB and CPE will separately develop rankings and recommendations for submittal to the Governor during the biennial budget process later this year.

The priorities outlined in the 2022-2028 Capital Plan for the 2022-2024 biennium will become the university's 2022-2024 Biennial Capital Budget Request. The top priority project is expansion of the Herrmann Science Center, a project of about 87,000 gross square feet and a cost of $82.5 million. Teaching and research labs in the basic sciences are used at maximum levels; additional labs are essential to support enrollment growth in the health science, engineering technology and STEM fields.

Other priorities include capital renewal upgrades to Fine Arts (#2), including repair of structural floor heaving, HVAC system replacement and other infrastructure and system upgrades, as well as various interior finish and architectural renovations. The third priority project is renovation of Steely Library to create student-focused space designed to enhance learning and engagement. Other project priorities address various critical maintenance and facilities renewal.

Projects and priorities in the plan were heavily influenced by the 2020 Campus Master Plan, CPE's VFA Facility Condition and Space Adequacy reports, and the most pressing space needs of the university. This plan addresses capital renewal issues in nearly every existing campus building.

Only projects listed in 2022-2024 with state general funds as the funding source are prioritized. For each biennium, a separate priority listing is prepared for those projects listing agency (NKU) bonds as the desired fund source. All other projects do not receive a priority ranking in the plan.

Project titles and cost estimates may be adjusted prior to final plan and final capital budget submission. The capital plan can be amended and updated as necessary until mid-September.

The Capital Plan Overview, Capital Plan Project List/Agency Bond priority list, and a Summary of Projects are attached.

Northern Kentucky University 2022-2024 CAPITAL PLAN

PLAN OVERVIEW

Northern Kentucky University's strategic framework plan, Success by Design, places a singular focus on advancing student success aligned with the needs of the Northern Kentucky region. Similarly, the university's 2020 Campus Master Plan, with a foundational basis on Success by Design, is a bold and sustainable plan linking the past to the future.

NKU is focused on access, completion and career and community engagement for all students. Regions that thrive in today's economy are anchored by high-performing universities that nurture talent in their classrooms and laboratories, preparing students to apply that knowledge to advance regional economic and social progress.

NKU's 2020 Master Plan builds on the VFA Facility Condition and Space Adequacy Study and the Council on Postsecondary Education's strategic goals. The VFA report states, "The condition of facilities (at) NKU is generally consistent with the age and construction methods of the facilities...many major system renewals (are) due...and as would be expected, many systems are at the end (or beyond the end) of their expected useful life." The report also states, "The project team recommends CPE and NKU address all three needs (condition, adequacy and capacity) with blended investments to address them simultaneously...". This idea of blended investments, a sustainable approach to re-purposing NKU's original buildings for a 21st century active learning environment, is the foundation of NKU's 2020 Master Plan.

With the 2018 opening of the Health Innovation Center, NKU is positioned to advance opportunities for degree completion in important STEM + Health fields. Between 2009 and 2019, majors in engineering technology and the basic sciences increased 11% and in the College of Health & Human Services, majors increased 100%. NKU's science center is unable to accommodate teaching and research lab space needed to support continued STEM + Health growth. Thus, NKU's top priority project is the Herrmann Science Center expansion, a project of about 87,000 gross square feet.

The 2020 Campus Master Plan is based upon a detailed space needs assessment. Using a nationally benchmarked process, the master planners identified academic space needs totally 278,000 square feet for the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Informatics, Business, and Health and Human Services. Projects outlined in the Master Plan reflect the findings of the space needs assessment and a commitment to stewardship of the physical campus while focusing on projects that add value through improving student engagement, advancing NKU's competitive advantage, supporting digital initiatives, and growing strategic partnerships. While the primary focus of the recommendations is on the renovation of existing space, the plan also includes strategic additions to existing buildings.

The Master Plan recommends a phased approach beginning with expansion of the Herrmann Science Center, followed by renovation/expansion of the Business Academic Center and then renovation/expansion of Nunn Hall. It recommends modernization of Steely Library to address critical capital renewal needs while creating a student-focused, "learning commons" environment to enhance learning and engagement. Finally, the Master Plan recommends capital renewal renovations in Fine Arts, Landrum and the Mathematics-Education-Psychology building. These projects are included in the Capital Plan, spread across the 2022-2028 timeframe. Other priorities included in the Capital Plan address various critical maintenance and facilities renewal projects.

Agency bond authorization is requested for several key projects in 2022-2024, including reauthorizations of "Renovate Residence Halls", "Reconstruct West Side Parking" and "Acquire Land/Master Plan".

Priorities in the Capital Plan illustrate the university's multi-faceted commitment to the Commonwealth; to our students, who demand academic excellence; and, to our community, which expects well-educated graduates prepared to contribute to the economic and social progress of the region. We imagine a better world, and work to make it a reality. To do so requires physical resources currently lacking at the university.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Regents approve the demolition of Woodcrest Apartments and a single family house at 227 Johns Hill Road.

BACKGROUND:

Woodcrest Apartments

Woodcrest Apartments, occupied in 1992, consists of three buildings of 3-1/2 stories each, with a total of 81,712 square feet. The buildings include small (compared to local market options) one and three bedroom apartments and efficiencies, for a total of 288 beds. (The new residence hall will house 297 students).

These wood frame buildings have exterior stairwells and balconies, open to the weather. The buildings were constructed with crawl spaces underneath, which has been a source of structural movement and deterioration to building systems over the years. In recent years, the pace of deterioration has escalated to the point that we began to question the wisdom of further investment in the complex.

In early 2020, it was determined, after extensive investigation and evaluation of options, the decision was made to take the building off-line for safety concerns. This decision was communicated to occupants and the buildings have been vacant since that time.

Upon approval of this recommendation, an RFP will be issued for demolition.

227 Johns Hill Road

The 1,545 square foot, one story house at 227 Johns Hill Road was constructed in 1940. The university purchased the 1.16 acre parcel in 1990. The property is a narrow piece, extending from Johns Hill Road to the back side of the BB&T Center parking lot.

Since 1990, the house was used as a rental for faculty and staff. The house is now in very poor condition and no longer safe to rent. The cost to put the house into rentable condition would be significant and not financially viable. For safety and liability reasons, demolition is necessary. Demolition will be bid, and is estimated to cost about $10,000.

227 Johns Hill Road, Looking Toward BB&T Arena

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Regents authorizes the proposed dining, parking, housing, and course fees and the attached Schedule of Fees and Service Charges for the 2021-2022 academic year.

Parking Fees: Parking Services is managed as a self-supporting auxiliary unit. Student, Faculty and Staff parking fees are being held flat to 2020-21 academic year. Details are below:

	Current Rates	Proposed Rates	Dollar Increase

Dining Fees: Dining Services is managed as a self-supporting auxiliary unit. Percent increases are based on the projected "CPI Food Away From Home" index. Dining increases proposed for 2021-2022 are approximately 2.8%. Details are below:

MEAL PLANS Per Semester

Mandatory Commuter Meal Plan	$50

BACKGROUND:

The proposed changes in housing fees have received comprehensive review and discussion by the President's Cabinet and Student Government Association.

Housing Fees: Housing is managed as a self-supporting auxiliary unit. In order to address a long-term approach to expand housing and address deferred maintenance and capital improvements on existing facilities, at the March 2018 meeting, the Board approved weighted average increases of 4% for 2019-2020 and 3% weighted average increases for 2020-2021, 2021-2022, and 2022-2023. The proposed housing rates are also needed to help cover increases in fixed costs, life safety upgrades, and other obligations. Details for housing fees are provided below. Overall housing rates for 2021-2022 academic year are proposed to increase at a weighted average of 3%.

HOUSING FEES

FY22 Rate	Total Beds at Price Point
$2,750	51.9%
$3,350	33%
$3,850	14.7%

BACKGROUND:

Course Fees: Course fees include charges to students to participate in the instructional activities of selected courses including: the cost of providing course materials to be consumed, retained or used by the student; the special costs associated with use of University-owned tools, musical instruments, or other equipment including charges for breakage; or the cost of other materials or services necessary to provide a special supplemental educational experience of direct benefit to the student. A complete listing of all course fees, including new, revised, and eliminated fees is attached.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Regents approves the tuition for the 2021-22 academic year at the rates proposed in the Authorized Schedule of Tuition (attached). The President will submit tuition rates for the 2021-22 academic year to the Council on Postsecondary Education (CPE) for approval prior to the June 25, 2021 CPE meeting.

SUMMARY

Undergraduate

A 1% tuition increase for undergraduate tuition is recommended for the 2021-22 academic year. Tuition rates for resident students will increase from $413 per credit hour to $417 per credit hour ($10,012 annual for full-time students, a $100 increase per year) and for non-resident students, will increase from $828 per credit hour to $836 per credit hour ($20,070 annual for full-time students). A 1% undergraduate tuition increase will generate approximately $900,000 in additional revenue.

Rationale:

A 1% tuition increase would be the smallest increase in tuition in nearly two decades. Affordability would be maintained by:

- Continuing to waive the online course fee for FY22
- Maintaining institutional aid and focusing more on need vs merit
- Access to additional state and federal funds that will more than offset the increased tuition for those students most in need
 - o with the passage of the third stimulus bill (American Rescue Plan) we will have $12 million of emergency student grant funds to distribute to students with need that can be used during FY22 and FY23
 - o the maximum Pell grant award will increase 2.4% from $6,345 in FY21 to $6,495 in FY22 per year
 - the need-based College Access Program (CAP) grant administered by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) will increase from $2,200 in FY21 to $2,900 in FY22 per year

Another factor impacting the decision to recommend a small tuition increase is the expected decision by CPE to set a two-year cap for undergraduate tuition at 3% with no more than 2% in either year. If we were to leave undergraduate tuition flat for FY22, we would be limited to 2% for FY23 after two years of no increases. That would create fiscal challenges with costs increasing and the need for strategic investments to continue our focus on student success.

Higher education costs continue to increase as is demonstrated by the Higher Education Price Index (a measure of the inflation rate applicable to higher education) going up 1.9% for fiscal 2020.

In the initial SACSCOC report, NKU was strongly encouraged to augment resources to the Library. This area in particular will be in need of further investments to help better meet student's expectations for robust library resources including research collections and virtual support services. In addition to the library, investments are also critically needed in technology. The COVID-19 pandemic brought with it the need to invest in technologies related to remote learning, virtual student support services, loaner programs, and improving learning anywhere/anytime. The need for hybrid teaching, learning and services will continue beyond the pandemic.

We believe this recommendation is consistent with our key tenant of maintaining access and affordability, and ensuring that NKU maintains the lowest net price of any 4-year public institution in Kentucky and Greater Cincinnati.

Graduate

General - General graduate rates are recommended to be reduced for the 2021-22 academic year to be more competitive with other State public universities and regional competitors. Tuition rates will be reduced to $550 per credit hour for resident students (a 10.3% reduction), $670 per credit hour for Ohio/Indiana students (a 9.2% reduction) and $845 per credit hour for nonresident students (a 10.4% reduction).

College of Business - To remain competitive with area colleges, the College of Business is reducing their rates for the face-to-face Master of Accountancy for resident rate to $510 per credit hour (9.7% reduction), Ohio/Indiana rate to $599 per credit hour (9.8% reduction), and the nonresident rate to $832 per credit hour (9.7% reduction).

College of Health & Human Services – The College of Health & Human Services is recommending a reduction in the face-to-face Master of Social Work Graduate Metro rate to $630 per credit hour (14.6% reduction). This rate is in line with the new accelerated online Master of Social Work launching in the fall.

Accelerated Online – There are several new accelerated online program rates that pricing has been determined in consultation with Academic Programs to ensure competitiveness. The College of Informatics MS Cybersecurity program with a rate of $460 per credit hour, Master of Accountancy at $490 per credit hour, MS Health Administration at $520 per credit hour, Master of Social Work at $653 per credit hour, and the Graduate Certificate in Healthcare Commercialization at $550 per credit hour. Chase Law is also decreasing the rate on their Master of Legal Studies accelerate online from $854 to $653 per credit hour to align with rates for online degrees.

BACKGROUND

CPE has the statutory authority to set tuition rates and mandatory fees for Northern Kentucky University in accordance with KRS 164.020. CPE will meet in May 2021 to establish a two-year cap on tuition for in-state undergraduate tuition. Indications are that the cap will be 3% for the two years with no more than 2% in any given year.

CPE policy allows institutions to set graduate, law, and doctorate tuition at market competitive rates.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Board of Regents approve the following resolution establishing and approving the Fiscal Year 2021-22 Annual Unrestricted Operating Budget for Northern Kentucky University.

Recommendation relating to Fiscal Year 2021-22 Budget, Northern Kentucky University, Board of Regents, May 12, 2021:

Be it resolved that, upon due consideration of the recommendation of the President, the Annual Unrestricted Operating Budget for Northern Kentucky University is hereby established and approved in an amount totaling $264,500,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2021, and ending June 30, 2022. This authorization is an increase of $13,500,000 (5.4%) over the FY21 authorization of $251,000,000.

The President is authorized to approve adjustments between the budget authorizations when such action appears, in his judgment, to represent the best interests of the University. However, any adjustment that alters the Annual Unrestricted Operating Budget authorization of $264,500,000 shall be submitted to this Board for approval at its next regular meeting.

In the event that unrestricted sources of funds are not sufficient to equal projected unrestricted expenditures, the President shall take appropriate measures to reduce budgeted expenditure authorizations by amounts sufficient to insure that unrestricted expenditures do not exceed authorized unrestricted sources of funds.

In the incurrence of financial obligations and the expenditure and disbursement of University funds available under this authorization, all University units and University personnel or agents shall adhere to and observe applicable laws, regulations, and policies of both the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the University, which govern and control the expenditure of funds. Administrators of the various units shall not authorize nor incur any financial obligation in excess of the budget authorizations.
