Message from Jeremy Alltop,
Vice President, Administration & Finance / CFO

Recently, as part of a presentation, I had to briefly answer how the Division of Administration and Finance’s work aligned to NKU’s Strategic Plan - Success by Design.

My initial thought was this – doesn’t everything we do impact students, their experience, and their success in some way? Ultimately, the official response to the question was this statement (slightly paraphrased): The Division of Administration and Finance helps to ensure student success by focusing on the availability, management, and sustainability of NKU resources to enhance access, completion, and career and community engagement for students.

I am not certain that those of us in Administration and Finance always see our efforts as being as important to a student’s learning as those of our colleagues who directly instruct or advise students. However, think of what would happen without the work of the many members of the Administration and Finance team: the grass would not be mowed, student refunds would not be processed, invoices for items such as learning materials or utilities would go unpaid, employees would not be hired, on-campus food service would not be available, wi-fi would not work, and the list goes on.

How successful would NKU be in ensuring student access, degree completion, and career and community engagement if these things did not happen? NKU would be challenged to demonstrate success without this support.

We should all be proud of the success that NKU has made in supporting our current and future students through new activities directly associated with Success by Design. While the Administration and Finance Division has directly supported a number of Success by Design projects, such as the NPHC Plots and NKU’s Esports team, the results of our labor each day have enabled students, and others on the NKU team, to go about their work and learning without wondering how to repair HVACs or maintain information security resources.

By promoting a positive environment through proactively ensuring the availability, management, and sustainability of NKU resources as part of our daily responsibilities, the Administration & Finance Division plays an important and integral part in supporting other members of the NKU community (faculty, staff, and students) in carrying out their work and learning. It is also important that as we move towards a new future, we all remain flexible and nimble in our work and able to adjust business processes and practices to address the changing needs of students and our campus community.

I am proud of the efforts of everyone within the Administration and Finance Division for helping to promote student success.

Success by Design

Student Account Services and IT worked on a Success By Design project to change the student payment plan. This allows students to choose a four-payment plan option to extend their student bills across the semester while also eliminating the mid-semester drop for non-attendance. This change will allow students to focus on their academics without the fear of being dropped halfway through. Phase I included the new payment plan and the display screens that will better display the payments for students.

Department integration

The Department of Economics & Finance and the Department of Accounting & Business Law merged to create the Department of Accounting, Economics, and Finance, effective for the fiscal year starting 7/1/2022 and the academic year starting 8/22/2022.
Einstein Bros. Bagels - Update

All the necessary approvals (internal and external) had been received for this restoration project. Due to supply chain difficulties, this project had been delayed but now work will begin at the start of the Thanksgiving holiday break and the restaurant will reopen for the start of the Spring 2023 academic semester.

Monthly Reports/Training/Annual Calendar

It’s hard to believe that July is now in the rearview mirror and we are days away from the beginning of the academic year. Here in the Budget Planning & Analysis Office, we are diligently preparing to produce monthly Operating and Position Budget Reports by Division. Historically, the prior month was closed by the eighth day of the following month so the monthly reports will be run and distributed after that timeframe. We are also working on training focused on the Position Budget report. We are aiming to use Kaltura to create on-demand training that can be referenced as needed. We will build on this training and the topics in the upcoming months. Feel free to contact Chandra Brown at brownc55@nku.edu and let us know what areas are of interest to you.

Did you know?

Quality health care means getting the care you need when you need it. Getting quality care can help you stay healthy, recover when you become sick, and manage chronic health conditions. Choosing and establishing a relationship with a Primary Care Provider (PCP) is the key to receiving ongoing quality healthcare. Meeting with them annually for preventive care, to check on your current health status, and to discuss any acute or chronic health issues is one of the most important things you can do for your health and well-being.

The NKU Cares PCP program encourages you to take an active role in caring for yourself. By taking the time to meet with your PCP for an annual check-up and biometric screening, all benefit-eligible faculty and staff will be rewarded with $25 on your All Card. Simply print the PCP form and have your Provider complete and sign it at your annual appointment. Email a copy of your completed form to Kim Baker, Director of Wellness at bakerk7@nku.edu and the funds will be electronically added to your All Card.

Don’t have a PCP? You can search for providers of all types online with Humana’s Find a doctor tool. Get step by step instructions on how to use this tool. You can also create or log in to your myHumana account to access your claims, ID cards, coverage details, and more. Take care of yourself this summer and all year long.

Fire & Life Safety - Evacuation plan and planning in case of a fire
Evacuation is required when the fire alarm sounds, an evacuation announcement is made, or a university official orders you to evacuate. In the event of an evacuation: alert those around you who might not have heard; turn off equipment and secure hazardous operations if possible; close doors and windows; leave room lights on; remain calm and walk to closest exit. Do not use elevators. If you are unable to leave the building due to a physical disability, go to the nearest area where there are no hazards, use a telephone to call 911, be sure to give them the room number so they can send help to you. Do not re-enter until given an “all clear” signal by emergency personnel.

PCard forms now available on the Procurement's website
PCard forms can be accessed at https://inside.nku.edu/procurement/card/forms.html. All forms from PCard request, to updates and maintenance forms, as well as reconciliation and missing receipt forms.
