The Student Success Fellowship is designed to positively impact student success and address the NKU Success by Design Strategic Framework. One-time funds will be available to support projects proposed by faculty (T/TT, NTTR, Visiting Assistant Professors, and temporary lecturers who have three or more years full-time service are eligible) that are aligned with the major college success and retention initiatives as stated in the Strategic Framework. Successful proposals will provide a review of the literature and utilize evidence-based practices, as well incorporate detailed assessment of the project and plans for dissemination. Immediate and long-term impact on student success and retention as well as sustainability (how projects could be continued beyond the funding period) and scalability should be discussed in the proposal.

The Fellowship and project duration is for a one-year period with the potential for competitive renewal. The Fellowship may be a joint project with a second faculty member. Faculty reassigned time may be requested during the academic year but may not exceed two courses (6 credit hour equivalent) per year per faculty member with the maximum in total requests per project being four courses (12 credit hour equivalent). Funding requests may range from $1-$15,000 (funding is limited, and awards will be based on the quality of proposals and clear intersections with Success by Design). Budgets should be realistic and based on project goals and an understanding of sustainability expectations. The number of high-dollar awards will be limited.

Basic award guidelines follow:

1. Award Purpose and Priorities: Funding is allocated on a competitive basis to proposals that might best achieve the college success and retention initiatives as stated in Success by Design. The funds can be used for faculty reassigned time during the academic year. See details in Proposal Guidelines.

2. Faculty Eligibility:
   Tenured/tenure-track (T/TT) or non-tenure track renewable (NTTR) NKU Arts & Sciences faculty (including chairs) are eligible.

3. Student Eligibility:
   NKU undergraduate and graduate students majoring in Arts & Sciences disciplines are eligible to be included, although faculty should be the primary author of the proposal. Students minoring in Arts & Sciences disciplines are not eligible. Students must complete their portion of the project before they graduate.

4. Funding:
   Maximum allocation = $15,000/project. Recipients may receive the full amount requested or a smaller amount as determined by proposal reviewers and the Dean of Arts & Sciences. If a project involves another college, and funds are required, then that college will need to demonstrate substantial financial contribution with a letter of commitment from the chair and dean. See details in Proposal Guidelines.

5. Proposal:
   The faculty member submits all materials:

6. Proposal Review Process:
The Associate Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences or a representative serves as chair for the preliminary review committee.
