Are you a good listener? Can you listen to people without taking sides? Do you believe in resolving disputes in a collaborative, peaceful manner? Would you like to receive free training to benefit you in the future and help the NKU community resolve disputes this way?

If you answered YES to these questions, you may want to learn how to be a peer-to-peer mediator. You will be able to use these skills in the workplace, in your personal life, and to assist on campus in resolving disputes.

The NKU Alternative Dispute Resolution Center is providing a free 3-day intensive training conducted in conjunction with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service on May 21, 22 & 23 at NKU. After training, you agree to volunteer on a limited basis with the ADR Center on campus mediation opportunities. You will help facilitate the student mediation process and gain invaluable experience.

This unique skill building opportunity is available only to eligible students who apply by April 25. There is limited space with preference given to Haile/US Bank and Chase students. Contact Kathleen Carnes at carnesk2@nku.edu for more information.
APPLICATION TO PARTICIPATE IN PEER MEDIATION TRAINING

Name:_________________________________________ Email:  ____________________________________________

College & Major: _______________________________ Expected date of Graduation:  _________   GPA:__________

Present or most recent employer:______________________________________ Dates of Employment:_____________

Title/Position: _____________________________________________________________________________________

Duties____________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

Community Activities (List major campus, community and/or volunteer activities only) and any leadership roles:

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

What is your understanding of what a mediator does? Why do you want to be a mediator?

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

_________________________________________________________________________________________________

*To be eligible, you must agree to attend the 3-day training being held on May 21, 22 & 23, 2018. This will be free of charge and include all training materials, breakfast, snacks, and lunch. Additionally, participants agree to assist, on a very limited basis, with resolving disputes on campus through opportunities provided by the ADR Center after training is complete. Therefore, to participate students must be enrolled at NKU for the 2018-19 academic school year. By signing below, you agree to these conditions.

Signature:  _____________________________________________  Date:__________________________

Submit this application to Kathleen Carnes, ADR Center Director, at carnesk2@nku.edu or contact for more information.