

The Simpsons* “Bart the Genius” (season one, episode two, 1990) class activity

Image Source: U.S. Postal Service

Bart cheats on an intelligence exam and learns the real liability of dishonesty experiencing multiple encounters of others’ retaliation to his actions. While viewing film, student should answer questions:

- How many times did Bart outsmart, cheat, or lie? Can you provide examples?
- Who else outsmarted, cheated, or lied to Bart? And how did they do this?
- Isn’t Bart’s entire existence at the new school one big lie, pretending to be someone he is not? Can you provide an example?