BIO 235/HNR 311: Costa Rican Natural History

In this spring semester class, students are introduced to basic field research methods involving the study of topical ecosystems and the organisms that live there. Various aspects of Costa Rican history, culture and society will be discussed with an emphasis on the intersection between society and the environment. The field portion of this class will be 9 days in Costa Rica over spring break. Knowledge of Spanish language not required.

MARCH 3-11, 2023
Application Deadline- November 28, 2022

Scholarships available!
nku.edu/studyabroad

CONTACT:
Dr. Allison Parker
Parker10@nku.edu
SC 254 / 859-572-6674

Mrs. Patricia Kappesser
kappesserp@nku.edu
SC 249 / 859-572-5689

Office of Education Abroad
Michelle Melish
melishm1@nku.edu
UC 305/859-572-6194