SOC 345: Native American Social Issues

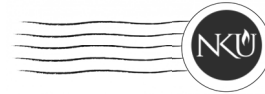

This course covers a range of social issues faced by contemporary Native Americans on and off reservations. Issues are presented within diverse social and historical contexts. Activist responses are considered along with the social consequences of past and current initiatives and policies.

Tour significant historical sites on Pine Ridge Indian Reservation of the Oglala Sioux Tribe, such as Wounded Knee, Oglala Lakota College, Red Cloud Indian School, the Indian Boarding School systems, and other sites through the nonprofit organization, Re-Member.
