CHARACTERISTICS OF SUCCESSFUL APPLICATIONS

- Meets purpose of program
- Concrete outcomes
- Clear procedure
- Organized as requested
- Complete – all information provided
- Impact clear
From the Faculty Handbook:

D.4. EVALUATION

In evaluating and ranking applications, the following are the primary factors that will be considered:

- a) How well the proposal meets the purposes of the program for which application is made;
- b) The value of the project to the applicant's growth and professional status; the value of the project to the scholarly community;
- c) The value of the project to the applicant's teaching responsibilities and students;
- d) The value of the project to the University;
- e) The value of the project to the non-academic community;

Other things being equal, preference should be given, first, to a candidate who has not previously received a Program award; second, to a candidate without tenure; and, third, to a candidate who received a Program award the longest time ago.
From the Faculty Handbook:

D.4. EVALUATION

In evaluating and ranking applications, the following are the primary factors that will be considered:

- f) The probability that the project will be carried out (to be measured in terms of the applicant’s background, previous success, and attainability of the goals stated);
- g) The ability of the applicant to convey the content and importance of the project to those outside his/her own academic discipline;
- h) Contribution of the project to the applicant’s ongoing scholarship or creative activity;
- i) Investigation of alternative funding sources;
- j) The urgency of the project to be undertaken; and
- k) Overall quality of the proposal.

Other things being equal, preference should be given, first, to a candidate who has not previously received a Program award; second, to a candidate without tenure; and, third, to a candidate who received a Program award the longest time ago.
Subcommittee created for each award category

- Sabbaticals, fellowships, project grants
- While the Benefits Committee as a whole has someone from each department on it, each subcommittees will not
  - So watch that what you write can be understood by any intelligent person, not just those in your field.

Subcommittee produces ranked list of acceptable proposals

- Usually is longer than available awards
  - Allows awards to be offered to next on list if awardee turns down award later.
Evaluation guidelines form for each proposal

- Specific to award category
- Based on Handbook criteria
- Available on website
- Typically filled out for each proposal and by each subcommittee member

Scores combined in WEIGHTING spreadsheet

- Overall Quality: 50%
  - Handbook criteria a, b, g, k
- Overall Value: 30%
  - Handbook criteria c, d, e, j
- Applicant diligence: 20%
  - Handbook criteria f, h, i

Average scores provide starting point for subcommittee discussions
Final ranked lists of acceptable proposals are submitted to Provost by Dec 1.

Provost’s notification to applicants by Dec 24.
