

I am currently a student in the Master's in Public History Program at NKU, working with the Boone County Library on Underground Railroad history. I also serve on the Mt. Healthy City Council.

"Black Studies makes me stand out, and the perspective I have developed has been an advantage in everyday life, not just my jobs."

CORDEL

"EDUCATION IS ALWAYS BIGGER THAN THE ASSIGNMENT; IT IS ABOUT THE LIFE LESSON."

"As both a history major and black studies minor, I found mentorship and support within the department. In particular, the Black Studies faculty challenged me to embrace a much more purposeful educational experience, rather than just going after a good grade."
