

The NKU Writing Center Online is Open!

All Writing Center appointments for Fall 2020 will be online.

We use Google docs + either phone Zoom for online appointments. When you book an appointment, tell us whether you would rather meet by Zoom or phone.

Book appointments at Tutortrac.NKU.edu.

- Select “Writing Center Online” as the Center, then the course, then “Search”.
- Once you find a time that works, add you phone number and your Zoom/phone preference into the note box. Book appointments 1 day-2 weeks ahead.

Before your appointment, send us your draft and assignment instructions to NKUWritingCenter@gmail.com. We will create a Google doc of your paper and send the link to your NKU email. If you use Google docs or OneDrive for your papers, just send us a link.

Questions? Need help booking an appointment? Contact NKUWritingCenter@gmail.com or call 859-572-5424.

What happens during an appointment?

- We can help with usage and grammar, clarity, organization, appropriate voice for your audience, or citation style.
- We don't tell you what to do, but we ask questions and give you our perspective as readers.
- We can share strategies for getting started, breaking big projects into manageable chunks, assessing your audience, and recognizing patterns in your writing that can make readers stumble.

We know that writing can be hard and that showing one's writing to someone else takes courage. Our goal is to help you become a more effective, more confident writer.

Writing Center website. More information is at the Writing Center website, including profiles of the Writing Center consultants.

Faculty/staff with questions or desiring editing assistance should contact Writing Center Coordinator Wanda Crawford at writingcenter@nku.edu or 859-572-5424.
