WHY DO I NEED A SAFETY PLAN?

Everyone deserves relationships that are healthy, safe and supportive. If you are in a relationship that is hurting you, it is important for you to know that the abuse is not your fault. It is also important for you to start thinking of ways to keep yourself safe from the abuse, whether you decide to end the relationship or not. While you can’t control the other person's abusive behavior, you can take action to keep yourself as safe as possible.

Leaving can be one of the most dangerous times in an abusive relationship, and there are countless reasons that victims are unable to leave. Staying safe requires a unique approach. For some victims taking legal action against their abusive partners is a part of their safety plan, and for some it is not.

WHAT IS A SAFETY PLAN?

A safety plan is a personalized, practical plan that helps lower your risk of being hurt by your abuser. It includes ways to keep safe while in a relationship, how to safely leave a relationship and how to stay safe once you’ve left. Safety planning involves learning how to cope with emotions, telling friends and family about the abuse, taking legal action and more. A good safety plan will include making sure you have all of the vital information you need to stay safe whether you are leaving your relationship or not and it will be tailored to your unique situation.

SAFETY PLANNING IS AN ONGOING PROCESS AND ADVOCATES AT THE NVP CENTER ARE HERE TO HELP.

HOW DO I MAKE A SAFETY PLAN?

Take some time for yourself to go through each section of this safety plan. You can complete this on your own, or you can work through it with someone else that you trust.

THESE ARE THINGS I CAN DO TO HELP KEEP MYSELF
SAFE EVERYDAY:

• Carry my cell phone and important telephone numbers with me at all times.
• Keep in touch with someone I trust about where I am or what I am doing.
• Stay out of isolated places.
• Alert work or campus security about what is happening so that my abuser is not allowed in my building.
• Avoid places where my abuser or his/her friends and family are likely to be.
• Keep the doors and windows locked where I live, especially if I am alone.
• Avoid speaking to my abuser. If it is unavoidable, I will make sure there are people around in case the situation becomes dangerous.
• Call 911 if I feel my safety is at risk.
• Remember that the abuse is not my fault and that I deserve a safe and healthy life.

THESE ARE THINGS I CAN DO TO HELP KEEP MYSELF
SAFE IN MY SOCIAL LIFE:

• Ask my friends to keep their cell phones with them while they are with me in case we get separated and I need help.
• If possible, go to different malls, bars, banks, parties, grocery stores, movie theaters, restaurants, etc. than the ones my abuser goes to or knows about.
• No matter where I go, I will be aware of how to leave safely in case of an emergency.
• Leave if I feel uncomfortable in a situation, no matter what my friends are doing.
• If I plan on drinking, I will be sure to have a sober friend to help in a volatile situation.
• Spend time with people who make me feel safe, supported and good about myself.
THESE ARE THINGS I CAN DO TO STAY SAFE ONLINE AND WITH MY CELL PHONE:

- Keep my cell phone charged and program in important numbers.
- I will not say or do anything online that I wouldn’t in person.
- Set all my online profiles to be as private as they can be.

- Never give my password to anyone.
- If the abuse and harassment does not stop, change my usernames, email addresses, and/or cell phone number.
- I will not answer calls from unknown, blocked or private numbers.
- See if my phone company can block my abuser’s phone number from calling my phone.
- I will not communicate with my abuser using any type of technology, even responding to messages, texts or emails can lead to more problems.
