NORSE VIOLENCE PREVENTION CENTER

The Norse Violence Prevention (NVP) Center provides confidential advocacy and assistance to university students who are affected by sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking. The NVP center assists survivors in identifying which choices make the most sense for them. Some of the safety planning measures the NVP Center can help you with include:

- safety when you're preparing to leave an unhealthy or abusive relationship
- safety with a protective order
- safety on campus, at work or in public
- safety in your housing
- others, based on situation

To schedule an appointment, please call the Norse Violence Prevention Center at (859) 572-5865, email at nvp@nku.edu or stop by the center on the second floor of the Albright Health Center, Suite 246. For more information about the NVP Center, please visit: nvp.nku.edu or follow us on Facebook and Instagram.

WHY DO I NEED A SAFETY PLAN?

Everyone deserves relationships that are healthy, safe and supportive. If you are in a relationship that is hurting you, it is important for you to know that the abuse is not your fault. It is also important to start thinking of ways to keep yourself safe from the abuse – whether you decide to end the relationship or not. While you can't control the other person's abusive behavior, you can take action to keep yourself as safe as possible.

Leaving can be one of the most dangerous times in an abusive relationship, and there are countless reasons that survivors are unable to leave. Staying safe requires a unique approach. For some survivors taking legal or campus disciplinary action against their abusive partners is part of their safety plan, and for some it is not.

WHAT IS A SAFETY PLAN?

A safety plan is a personalized, practical plan that helps lower your risk of being hurt by your abuser. It may include ways to keep safe while in a relationship, how to safely leave a relationship and how to stay safe once you've left. Safety planning involves learning how to cope with emotions, telling friends and family about the abuse, taking legal action and more. A good safety plan will include all of the vital information you need to stay safe whether you are leaving your relationship or not, and it will be tailored to your unique situation.
