While nothing is failsafe, here are some suggestions everyone may want to consider (Note: the following information is general in nature and does not relate to any specific incident):

- If confronted by a robber, remain calm, and comply with demands to surrender property; this will most likely allow you to avoid physical injury.
- Consider making in-person transactions arranged online at or near police stations or other safe locations.
- Whenever possible, travel during daylight hours and in groups of two or more; when traveling at night, do so in well-lighted areas and in groups.
- Maintain constant vigilance of your environment and surroundings.
- Avoid publicly displaying large sums of cash or other valuables.
- Avoid being in areas that are sparsely populated and not well-lighted.
- Avoid referencing wealth or valuables on social media sites.
- Avoid being under the influence of alcoholic beverages or other substances impairing senses and cognitive functions.
- Keep a record of your credit card account numbers and related phone numbers in a safe place; if stolen, immediately cancel your credit cards.
- When safe to do so, report the robbery to University Police, by phoning 859-572-5500 or 911; if it occurred off campus, report it to local police, by phoning 911; while on the phone, remain calm; answer all questions and provide as much descriptive information as possible; inform police personnel if you can positively identify the suspect and any weapon or motor vehicle used in the crime.
- Trust your instincts; if any situation makes you uncomfortable, immediately notify University Police; if off campus, immediately notify local police by phoning 911.
- If you feel uneasy walking to or from locations on campus, consider using the police department's safety escort program. An officer can be dispatched to your location and accompany you to your destination.
