Email #1From: Northern Kentucky University <KISKADENC@nku.edu>Date:*To: student@nku.eduSubject: Important Student Notice -- Course Evaluations Now Available

Dear NKU Student:

The opportunity to provide feedback about your courses this semester via NKU's online course evaluation website is now available. Instructions for completing evaluations are provided below, and the evaluations are available until <<DATE>> and <<TIME>>. Several reminder emails will be provided in the coming days. Please review the important notes below.

- Student Responsibility: Completing course evaluations is an important student responsibility, and instructors and university leaders take student feedback seriously to enhance student learning. Student feedback also plays a major role in the overall evaluation of professors and contributes significantly to their promotion and tenure processes.
- Response Confidentiality: Student evaluations are not available to instructors until after final grades are submitted, and instructors do not know which students submitted which responses. Even though students log in, no identifying information is connected to the feedback, and an independent company, Digital Measures, is responsible for collecting and reporting the results.
- Providing Feedback: Thoughtfully written, specific comments are important to help instructors enhance student learning.
- Early Grade Release: To encourage student participation, students who complete the evaluation surveys receive the benefit of immediate access to their final course grades as soon as they are submitted. Students are also permitted to select the "opt-out" option if they choose not to provide feedback.
- Timing of Evaluations: Evaluations are completed during the two concluding weeks of the course, prior to finals week (with the exception of 8-week and summer courses). Best practice shows that this is the appropriate time to collect feedback so that students can focus on the surveys during a time that is less hectic than finals week or after finals.
- Before Clicking Submit: Please check to make sure that you filled out the correct answers for the correct course and instructor before you submit your responses. Once you click submit, the responses are final and cannot be reset or revised.

Instructions

1. Go to <https://access.nku.edu/sacsei/login.php> or select the "Evals" icon on the iNKU app.
2. Log in using your NKU USER ID and PASSWORD.
3. Complete the evaluation for the courses listed (or opt-out by entering the evaluation and scrolling to the bottom of the evaluation and checking the box next to "I choose not to respond.")
4. Be sure you are satisfied with your responses, and then click SUBMIT to complete the evaluation.

Thank you in advance for taking the time to provide feedback; your participation helps NKU improve students' educational experience.

Sincerely,

Connie Kiskaden
