SENIORS: COLLEGE APPLICATION DEADLINES

For seniors considering the following colleges, there are admissions application deadlines to be considered for the individual college's institutional financial aid. This means the grants and scholarships that the college gives to potential students in its financial aid packages. Specific departments within a college may have other deadlines for applying. Pell Grant, Kentucky Cap Grant, and KEES money have nothing to do with these deadlines.

OCTOBER 2 ROUND-UP

The seniors and their parents or guardians worked on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form and found out a lot about grants, scholarships, and financial assistance. Judy will discuss college Financial Aid Packages at January's meeting with seniors.

The juniors and sophomores learned about group communication through building pasta and marshmallow towers before one-on-one intense descriptive communication. It was an eye-opening and ear-opening experience and the students did a great job. Emily and Jalyn led the students through a couple of concentration activities at the end of the afternoon.

Ronaldo, Diamonique, and Kailey with their tall tower of power.

Caroline and Mirasol did a really good job..

Cheyenne and Morgan were a fast-thinking duo..

Jayden and Diamonique display their exacting duplicate descriptions.

THINKING CORNER

Another mystery to solve. When you have an answer call 859-448-8930 with the answer, your name, and the time of your call. Good luck.

An elderly woman lived alone in her house in the suburbs. She rarely left the house and knew only a few people. On Friday morning, the mailman called out for the woman but didn't receive a prompt answer as usual. Upon peeking in through the window, the mailman realized that the woman was murdered. The police investigated the house and found Tuesday's newspaper by the dead body. Also, by the door outside, there were three unopened bottles milk, one of which had gone bad.

The police arrested the killer the very next day. How did they figure it out so quickly?
